Board of Appeals hears from Crystal Commons

Board member faces accusation from Miceli

By MARIA HARRISON

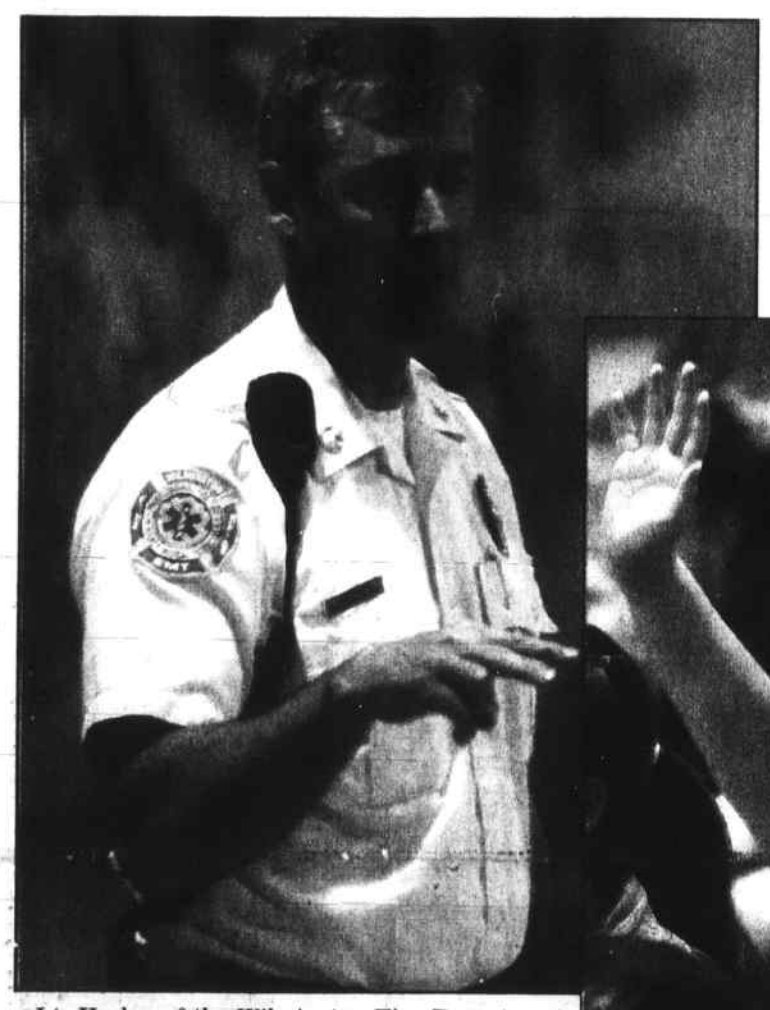

WILMINGTON - The proposed Crystal Commons developer, Tambone Investments, appeared once again before the Board of Appeals on Monday night. The 108-unit project consisting of 100 condos and 8 townhouses slated for construction on the property of the former Diamond Crystal at 10 Burlington Avenue, has been slowly making its way through the various processes in pursuit of permitting.

Once again, concerned residents, including Representative James Miceli and several members of the Board of Selectman, came to the meeting to see if any changes to the current proposal had been made. Tambone Investment Group again presented its case for the one hundred condos and eight townhouses proposed for the site.

Gene Sullivan, a Wilmington based engineer, has been working with developer Richard Tambone and the town to address structural concerns and to find a suitable resolution that would benefit the town and the developer. He began by saying that discussions with the MBTA are ongoing and that a Letter of Intent will be going out shortly to the Highway Department so that the project can get into their planning queue. Much to the chagrin of the residents, he stated that the traffic discussion would have to be deferred to a meeting sometime after Aben Associates have concluded their peer review of the traffic study.

Sullivan then discussed a stack of memos that addressed what would need to be done according to the Water and Sewer Department, the Department of Public Works, the Conservation Committee and the Fire Department if the project is to move forward.

Lt. Hurley of the Wilmington Fire Department visited the North Intermediate School to discuss fire safety with the students.

Michael Nguyen was ready with an answer to one of the fire safety questions.

The Fire Department reminds residents that it is a good idea to change the batteries on smoke detectors when changing the clocks on October 30.

Trolley tracks unearthed during Main Street construction

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD? No, workers digging up Main Street near the car wash on Tuesday came across what looked like railroad tracks, three feet down in the hole! What they found, and had to cut through, was the old track left from the trolley line that used to run up Rt 38 from Somerville through Woburn connecting to Silver Lake in the early 1900's. Trolley lines were all over eastern Massachusetts and were used by "city folk" to get out to the resort area located at Wilmington's Silver Lake. Stu Neilson photo

Local business honored

Entrepreneur began with $300

By MARIA HARRISON

WILMINGTON - The American Dream is not dead. It is alive and well and living within the founder and president of Wilmington based, Charter Environmental, Inc. Robert L. Delhome has been awarded the U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) 2005 Minority Small Business Person of the Year for both Massachusetts and New England.

Delhome was born in Panama and traveled to the United States with his parents when he was very young. The small family rented an apartment in Belmont Massachusetts where Delhome went to school. After graduating from high school he attended the Massachusetts Maritime Academy in Buzzards Bay, then went on to the Merchant Marine. As the need for Merchant Marine declined, he went to work for Clean Harbors. It was at that point that he discovered the need for a business that would offer remediation services to companies whose work sites required environmental clean-up. Delhome's company decontaminates the site and then hands the construction aspect over to the contractors.

Charter Environmental Inc, was a one person start-up company in 1997 with roughly three hundred dollars in seeded capital. The company now has an annual average revenue of twenty-seven million dollars per year.

Colonists to help save Butters Farm

Muster scheduled for Town Common on October 29

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - Don't be surprised to see some people in Colonial dress on Wilmington Common on October 29. But it has nothing to do with Halloween.

The Second Massachusetts Regiment will hold a muster on the Common from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The event is being held as a fund-raiser in support of the effort to save the 323-year-old Butters farmhouse on Chestnut Street. The farmhouse recently changed hands and the town has until June to come up with the money to purchase it. Otherwise, the historic structure is in danger of being torn down to make way for new construction.

The 2nd Mass is a re-enactment group whose purpose is to interpret the lives of ordinary people, as well as soldiers of the Continental Army, in the Revolutionary War.

The muster day is set as a pre-war drill session, as would have been conducted in the 18th Century. The 2nd Mass expects to have 30-40 people present, which includes their members, as well as members of the 10th

Residents want more from state's Solid Waste Plan

By MARIA HARRISON

WILMINGTON - Residents had a chance to sound off on the state's draft Solid Waste Master Plan during a public hearing last Thursday evening at the Wilmington Memorial Library. Those in attendance commended the draft plan, but the general consensus among residents in attendance was that the plan was not as strong as it could be.

The meeting began with comments by John Fischer from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). Fischer cited some of the current Solid Waste Master Plan's positives and conceded to some of its weaknesses.

Some of the accomplishments of the current Master Plan have been things such as increasing Massachusetts' waste reduction rate up to 55 percent as of 2002, increasing the number of municipal Pay-As-You-Throw (PAYT) programs from 94 at the start of 2000 to 116 in 2004 and increasing the population served by PAYT programs by 30 percent. In addition, the DEP has helped to establish a Supermarket Organics Recycling Network with nearly 60 participating stores, which have diverted between 60 and 75 per cent of their solid waste and saved an average or $45,000 per store.

Where the DEP aims to improve is in capturing the technical advances that are turning up in recycling, and not falling behind on their commitment to get the job done. They recognize they have not done a great job in the past and want to seek to increase enforcement of existing regulatory requirements, build new partnerships

Tewksbury resident awarded Coldwell Banker Scholarship

LOWELL -Tewksbury resident Amanda Venuti, a senior political science major at the University of Massachusetts Lowell, was recently awarded the Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage Cares International Peace Scholarship.

The International Peace Scholarship fund was initially established by Coldwell Banker at UML in October 2001 in honor of Peter and Sue Hanson and their daughter Christine who perished on the United Airlines flight that struck the World Trade Center. The Hanson's had just purchased their first home through the Westford Office of Dewolfe Real Estate, now a part of Coldwell Banker, and members of that office initiated this scholarship idea to memorialize them. The goal of the program is to award scholarships to UML undergraduate and graduate students who are pursuing leadership roles in public service and diplomacy directed toward international peace and understanding between the U.S., the developed world and developing nations of the world.

Members of the Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage offices in Westford, Chelmsford and Tewksbury, who established the fund, joined UML academic leaders during a campus celebration congratulating Venuti who was recognized for her involvement in the University. She is secretary of the International Relations club, the award winning student organization that participates in simulated United Nations and other world organization debate conferences; she has interned at the Massachusetts State House, was principal organizer of the first High School Model United Nations program hosted by UML and she is interning this fall at Amnesty International in Washington, D.C.

"I am honored to have received this scholarship as it truly echoes the direction and focus of my academics and career path. The scholarship will greatly assist me in my endeavors, and cannot thank the committee enough for this generous recognition," says Venuti, who hopes to pursue a career working to improve diplomatic relations between the United States and other foreign nations.

Professor Nick Minton (left), chair of the political science department at the University of Massachusetts Lowell and Mike Jewell, executive vice president North Shore of Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage, congratulate Amanda Venuti, of Tewksbury, for receiving the 2005 Coldwell Banker Cares Residential Brokerage International Peace Scholarship. (courtesy photo)

To date, Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage Cares, has donated $36,000 to this endowed scholarship fund and continues to donate $5,000 each year to ensure the fund's continued growth. The annual endowment interest has funded three student scholarships thus far and will continue to fund a new recipient each year.

The University of Massachusetts Lowell, a comprehensive university with special expertise in applied science and technology, is committed to educating students for lifelong success and conducting research and outreach activities that sustain the economic, environmental, and social health of the region. UML offers its 11,000 undergraduate and graduate students more than 80 degree programs in the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Engineering and Management, and the School of Health and Environment and the Graduate School of Education. Visit the website at www.uml.edu <http://www.uml.edu/> .

Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage Cares Inc. is a 501(C)(3) nonprofit organization operated by Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage for the purpose of raising funds to provide help and assistance to the communities in which it serves, with a focus on providing shelter, particularly to children and families. The primary fundraising activities include a voluntary program whereby employees and sales associates contribute a portion of their income and commissions to the charitable program. These contributions are matched 100 percent by Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage of New England. For more information, please visit www.NewEnglandMoves.com.

Wilmington's Nick Gustin achieves Eagle Scout

Nick Gustin is the 460th Eagle Scout in the 74 year history of Troop 56. Nick joined scouting in 1994 as member of Pack 56, where he earned his Bobcat, Wolf, Bear, and the Arrow Light. He joined Troop 56 in 1999. After earning 23 merit badges he successfully passed his Eagle Board of Review in June 2005.

Nick is a member of the Wilmington High School Senior Class and participates in soccer, wrestling, and spring track throwing the discus at the varsity level. He plans to attend college and major in business.

Nick's project consisted of building an outdoor playground for St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church. Nick worked closely with the church stewardship committee on the playground's design and safety concerns.

Nick started off by raising the $ 1,600 he would need by hosting a spaghetti luncheon for St. Elizabeth's. He put together a raffle with items generously donated by local businesses, to raise additional funds. He conceived of a movie night fund raiser, which was very well attended by cub scouts, friends, and fellow scouts during April vacation week. Additional money was raised from generous donations by people and businesses in the area.

Fellow scouts, friends and adults all pitched in to clear the land, move 10 yards of sand, 5 yards of wood chips and 5 yards of stone to make the play ground safe. The playground was assembled and erected, in the rain, the last weekend of April vacation. Nick learned a lot about project management and construction. The final result was a small playground in a wooded setting with benches for adults to enjoy while children played.

At the request of St. Elizabeth's parish the playground was dedicated to Nick's grandparents, Frank and Lillian Kember, who both passed away during the completion of Nick's Eagle project. The parish of St. Elizabeth's went out of their way to make Nick feel very special and appreciated on the day of the dedication.

It's Your Money

INTERNET SHOPPING AND TAXES

If you are shopping on the Internet, and the company has no physical presence in your state, you probably won't be charged any sales tax on the transaction. Ideally, the purchaser is supposed to confess and pay a "use tax" to his own state, but this is rare.

On the other hand, if you are selling on the Web, the tax picture gets complicated. Again, if there is no physical presence in the state where the package is going, the seller is not expected to collect sales taxes. But if there is the slightest connection—even an Internet Service Provider in that state—then the seller must collect and pay tax on all business in that state.

It may be advisable to consult with an expert on e-commerce and sales taxes before getting started. Liabilities can add up, and the business owner—not a corporation—is liable for the taxes, and the statues of limitations never run out. There are 7,000 sales tax jurisdictions in the U.S., 7,000 different worries.

Small-business owners depend on the good advise they get from the knowhow people at:

OPINION

From the Editor's Desk

By Stephen P. Bjork

What's the deal?

Is Wilmington Selectman Michael Newhouse obsessed with the Town Counsel position? Could be.

Newhouse served as Wilmington's Town Counsel for approximately a year and a half following the retirement of Alan Altman, who had served the town in that capacity for more than 30 years. The Board of Selectmen, whose membership had changed dramatically since Newhouse' original appointment, chose not to reappoint him in 2003, which resulted in a substantial public outcry and a petition consisting of more than 1,700 signatures asking the Board to reconsider.

Following a series of interviews, Paul DeRensis of the firm of Deutsch, Williams, Brooks, DeRensis & Holland, P.C. was appointed to replace Newhouse as Wilmington's Town Counsel.

The transition from Newhouse to DeRensis was anything but smooth.

In December of 2003, six months into the appointment, DeRensis successfully renegotiated his contract from a flat retainer of $132,800 to a retainer fee of $4,500 per month plus hourly billing at the rate of $165 for litigation and specialized services.

In April 2004, Newhouse ran for a seat on the Board of Selectmen and topped the ticket.

In May 2004 and May of 2005, Newhouse voted to re-appoint DeRensis.

Earlier this month, during a public meeting Newhouse asked DeRensis for copies of the contracts he holds with other towns. According to Newhouse, the request was prompted by DeRensis' hesitation to take on the legal aspects of the Town's negotiation with Comcast as part of the retainer portion of his contract. DeRensis sees the request as an attack.

The timing of the request is suspect.

Had the request been made in late March or early April when the Board was preparing to consider reappointment, Newhouse' assertion that he wants to make sure that the town is getting as good a deal as any other of DeRensis' municipalities would be beyond reproach. DeRensis, has stated, according to Newhouse, that all of his municipalities have the same contract.

DeRensis took Newhouse' request under advisement. Assuming that DeRensis had no intention of providing the contracts, Newhouse took the action of issuing requests, under the public records laws, to DeRensis' clients.

Though no vote was taken, it was obvious from public discussion that the majority of the Board was not going to support Newhouse' request.

As it stands, Newhouse has his neck stretched way out. One would assume that, in accordance with public record request laws, the contracts have arrived, or are arriving, in Newhouse' mailbox. It will be interesting to see if the topic is broached at the next meeting.

If Wilmington is getting a raw deal, we should know about it - especially if DeRensis has made the claim that all of his contracts are the same.

By the way, if Wilmington is getting a better deal than his other clients, we should know that, too.

In December of 2003, on this page, I criticized DeRensis for renegotiating his contract, halfway through its term, but the services that come with that price tag appear to warrant it. The importation of 21E soil to the Maple Meadow Landfill has stopped and the firm responsible, MEA, has dropped its lawsuit against the Town. DeRensis renegotiated an agreement with Olin Chemical, which included a tolling agreement to stop the clock from ticking on the statute of limitations. New England Transrail, which is attempting to use a federal exemption to push a waste transfer station onto the contaminated property belonging to Olin, appears to be on the run (credit for that must be shared with a large coalition headed up by Rep. James Miceli).

The position of Town Counsel has been in the headlines for far too long. However this particular situation is resolved, it will hopefully be the end of it.

Why not have sex?

Children of today believe they have every reason to become sexually active. No matter where they turn they see and hear the same message: sex is OK. It's cool, everybody is doing it; it brings joy and acceptance from your partner. Hollywood leads the way in setting the way to sexual involvement. The children's screen idols marry and divorce, and have affairs as if they were buying a new outfit. Britney Spears is a good example. Her first marriage lasted twenty-four hours. On a whim she took away the sanctity of marriage. Sleeping with many partners is a way of life for many stars. "I love my idol. What ever he/she does must be right." Beautiful, talented, and sexy is the criteria for acceptance. Children long to be a part of that exciting and sexual world of Hollywood. The bathing beauties that are seen on TV, and magazines exude sexual attraction. It stimulates the boys, while it confirms to girl's sex attracts men.

Not too long ago sex for a teenager was unacceptable. It brought shame to the child. She no longer was a good girl. Unfairly, the boys' shame was less. This was the concept of parents and the general public. This shame seems to have disappeared with most youngsters. Young girls and boys now find it cool to say they are sexually involved.

In taking a survey of teenagers, the following questions were asked: "Are you surprised that fifty percent of teens have had oral sex, and do you consider oral sex to be sex?" One boy sixteen of East Boston replied: "I wouldn't consider (oral sex) sex, but most of the people I know have done it. Some people think it's the normal thing to do." A female child of seventeen from Somerville: "Probably THREE PERCENT of the people I know HAVEN'T done it. I don't consider it sex." This mind set is confirmed by the U.S. governments biggest sex survey that found more than half of American teens have engaged in oral sex. Unbelievable, at one time this was beyond our imagination or acceptance. However, it is here, and we are accepting it. At this rate, everything and anything our children do sexually will be accepted. Family values are going down the drain while we complain but do nothing.

What has happened? It seems children have been brainwashed to believe anything goes. If it feels good, do it. They are truly victims of a culture that is encouraging sex without dignity. A new trend is developing in Hollywood. Our adored movie stars are having babies out of wedlock. They celebrate the pregnancy and birth of their child while ignoring marriage. Tom Cruise and Katie Holmes have chosen this direction.

Many children will follow this role model's example. When this happens many parents will be raising these new born. Children usually realize they made the wrong decisions, after the fact. However, the burden of sacrifice and pain can go on forever. Most children will get through these confusing years. Yet many will be scarred for life. Venereal, disease unwanted pregnancies and abortions will haunt many for life.

Every area that would discourage sex has been watered down or eliminated. Sexual diseases and pregnancies are being portrayed as something insignificant. TV advertisements are the greatest culprits. The dreaded genital Herpies is presented as a minor interruption of sexual activity.

There seems to be a conspiracy to take away the innocents of our children and the authority of the parents. Most all the reasons and incentives not to have sex have been taken away. Where do they turn for moral support and solace? Many have turned away from God because he is slowly being taken away. The courts are ruling the word God can't be mentioned or displayed in many public places. Mentioning oral sex is much more acceptable in any setting or place. How can children believe God is the allpowerful when they must choose the right time and place to mention his name? God and religion have always been a place of refuge. Its' combination of love and fear made Christian children and God fairing children think twice. Slowly but surely God's influence is being taken away.

The strong influence of the family is also melting away. Each day TV, magazines, and media ads are demeaning their importance. A TV Listerine ad shows parents bickering about trying a new formula. The teenage son without any hesitation tries the Listerine. He then goes on to say you both should grow up. You may take this as a big joke, however, its one of the every day repetition demeaning the parents' leadership and intelligence. Putting down parents becomes acceptable because we don't know its happening. It is so subtle and humorous it hides the obvious. It is hurting the importance of the family.

Become aware of the every day demeaning of the parents. This is especially true of the father who many times is portrayed as a jerk. The message is men are not smart enough to lead the family. TV programs are portraying men as incompetent, insensitive, and a big joke.

What moral strength does a child have to hold on to if they believe the media? Father is losing his authority and respect. Mother doesn't have a meaningful partner. God's influence is doubtful. On the other hand movies, magazines, and books glorify sex. Acceptance, glamour, and success are related to sex. Why not have sex?

What are we going to do about it.

Watch for my next column.

Everything's A Story

by Andrea MacMullin

Have you ever suddenly thought of something you did years and years ago, and found yourself wanting to change the past and rid yourself of years of guilt? These two little problems seem to resurface at a moment's notice, without warning, and can put a good mood into a tailspin.

All of sudden, while reading nighttime stories, memories from nearly thirty years ago reemerge. For some reason I remembered being less than kind to another student on the school bus, and was filled with remorse.

Why did I do such a thing? Looking back, I can scarcely force myself to think about it, let alone speak of it. I yearned to find this person and tell them how deeply I regretted being such a terrible child.

Over the years I'd like to think I have regretted nothing. But, there are those few instances where I'd wished I had kept my mouth closed.

I've become better, or I should say more aware of what comes out of my mouth. But, there are those times where my brain is yelling loudly, "stop! stop!" but unfortunately my mouth continues to move.

There are those people you come in contact with, who, during a conversation of harmless banter proceed to throw in a somewhat serious "dig" and then absolve themselves with, "just kidding!"

You know they really meant it. Why would they have said it if they didn't subconsciously think it was true? At least when I say something distasteful, inappropriate or something I wish I hadn't, I just walk away in embarrassment, or chalk it up to the fact that everyone knows me, and is probably just as embarrassed for me and my ignorance.

I'd like to think I've rid myself of those "crazies" that many of us women experience in our lives. Those times when our words and actions are really not reflective of the true women we are. They seemed to have been more prevalent when I was in my twenties, but I'm sure they're far from gone.

Time cannot be erased, and guilt will forever be something that is part of a human with a conscience. Would we seriously want to be around a person who was perfect, who always said and did the right thing? If such a person exists, I'm not sure I would want to be their acquaintance.

They would be too flawless, and really, probably narcissistic. They would have to be. If they never felt fault, I would have to believe they had no heart. Because, we all have faults and we all need to reflect on them, and forgive ourselves, hard as that may be. Chances are, whatever we are holding onto, others are not.

Letter to the editor

No such thing as government money...

Dear Editor,

A previous letter to the Editor emphasizes that it is "time for the state to step up and renew its commitment to Massachusetts municipalities." Given that a Republican governor cannot do this on his own without the support of the Democrat-controlled legislature, I agree that it is time for Rep. Finegold, Rep. Miceli, and Senator Tucker to get their Democrat colleagues to bring back every cent Tewksbury taxpayers deserve!

We have a high performance expectation of them, and you can rest assured that they know it.

They have been there before.

On my office wall is a framed original Town Crier cartoon by Max. On the left stands a jolly, rotund Santa who is waving pleasantly on a Christmas card, headed: "Santa '89;" while, in the foreground, slouches an emaciated, bedraggled "Santa '90," who bemoans: "What a difference a year makes!" His sleigh is piled high with boxes, labeled: "High Unemployment," "Kuwait," "Poor Economy," "Soaring Fuel Prices."

Sound familiar?

Yes, Tewksbury in FY 2006 has much in common with 1989. We've made light cuts in personnel without decreasing services. We've funded collectively bargained wage increases for town workers. [We've paid a policeman back $35,000+ in sick days he "leant" his police dispatcher wife.] Town sewer is on its way. Traffic snags, but streets are being paved. Times are good, and business continues as usual.

But change darkens the horizon!

FY 2007 will be more like 1990. The town manager will be sorely pressed to submit a balanced budget without the "one time" trash savings, or the rebated hotel/motel taxes, upon which he relied this year. There are an increasing number of Tewksbury citizens who cannot pay more real estate taxes. The Food Pantry needs to double in size. Is there any more money to get from the state? Is state money the answer?

If the truth be told, because the State is increasingly disinclined to pay municipal bills, we no longer can rely on the State to save us to the extent it has in the recent past. It must be our own Town Manager and Selectmen that lead Tewksbury to live within its budget. It they cannot manage for us, consequences are dire. Our legislators can only do so much. We must get our own house in order before they can do more.

Remember: the bottom line -- there is no such thing as "government money" - only "taxpayers' money."

Sincerely,
Douglas Sears

Wilmington Historical Commission says thanks

Dear Editor,

The Wilmington Historical Commission wishes to thank those who made our reception at the West Schoolhouse on October 2, 2005 a success. It was truly exciting for the many members of the Historical Commission to see this fifteen-year project completed. The goal of the Commission since 1990, when the West Schoolhouse was placed on the National Register of Historic Places, was to restore this building so that it would be an integral part of Wilmington once again.

We wish to thank our Legislative leaders, State Senator Bruce Tarr and State Representative James Miceli for their consistent support of historical preservation and conservation in Wilmington.

How wonderful it was to see a 19th Century, one-room schoolhouse still be an institution for learning for the Shawsheen Tech students in the 21st Century. A special thank you to Superintendent Charles Lyons, the teachers, and the Senior classes of 2004-2005 school year for their hard work resulting in such a beautiful job.

Thanks also to the many Wilmington Town officials for their work and support on this project: The Wilmington Board of Selectmen, our Town Manager Michael Caira, Assistant Town Manager Jeffrey Hull, Superintendent of Public Buildings Roger Lessard, Assistant Superintendent of Public Buildings George Hooper II, the Public Buildings Department workers; without their hard work over the years, this project could not have been completed; and to Donald Onusseit and the Department of Public Works for their exterior work on the grounds.

We wish to thank Edward F. Shea, New England Concrete Products Company for their generous donation. Also, Terry McDermott, Curator of the Wilmington Town Museum at the Harnden Tavern, Bonny Smith, Adele Passmore, Helen Drover, and Vicky Souther for their contributions to our open house reception.

Thanks to the Foster Balser family and the many citizens of Wilmington, especially West Schoolhouse alumni, for attending this rebirth of the West Schoolhouse.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Harris

Tewksbury Veterans Council

Dear Editor,

The Tewksbury Veterans Council is asking all Tewksbury Veterans to take part in this year's Veteran Day Service, November 11, 2005 at 10:45 a.m. on the town common.

We would especially like to see the Veterans just returning from the War on Terrorism to march with us holding our country's colors.

All gave some, but some gave all. We service the living by honoring the dead.

The Wilmington library debate

Those for...

Library figures mis-stated

Dear Editor,

As Library Director, I would like to respond to the letter to the editor in the Town Crier on October 12th regarding the Wilmington Memorial Library's FY06 Operating Budget. The one year salary increases of 8% and 11% that were cited are inaccurate. Full-time library employees received a 3% increase in FY06 as part of a collective bargaining contractual agreement. This 3 % salary increase for full-time employees and for the Library Director is within the industry average quoted in the letter. The letter inaccurately stated that the average salary for the ten full-time library employees is $53,179. The FY06 total personnel account (excluding the library director) that totals $531,796 includes the salaries of the library's 10 full-time employees and 15 part-time employees. The total full-time personnel account is $435,420 which averages at $43,542 per full-time employee not $53,179. The part-time salaries range from $18.04 per hour for a part-time reference librarian with Master's Degree in Library Science to $7.47 for a high school library page.

The total increase for the public library's personnel account between FY05 and FY06 was 2%. If one analyzes the public library's FY06 operating budget within the context of the entire FY06 Municipal Budget, the library's operating budget accounts for 1.2%. That is about one cent on the tax dollar.

The proposed new library is designed for efficient operation to minimize the need for additional staff. If the proposed new library is approved, there will be a modest increase in personnel to handle the expected increase in library use. Library Directors from towns with new libraries report that library activity in some cases doubles in the first year that the new library opens to the public.

The letter also states that the Friends of the Library are not friends of the taxpayer. The Friends of the Library provided over $10,000 in supplemental funding to the library for programs, library materials and equipment in FY05. The Friends also contribute many volunteer hours supporting the library programs and services that cannot be quantified. Thus, the Friends can surely be considered friends of the taxpayer as well as the library.

Finally, I do agree, as the letter indicates, that technology has and will continue to have an impact on how we use libraries. Technology, however, will not replace the need for libraries. According to the American Library Association, library visits have doubled to almost 1.2 billion in the last decade during a period when the Internet became more popular. The proposed new library is designed with the flexibility to adapt to future technology trends and changes to make sure that all citizens have equal access to information.

The letter makes reference to Google's ambitious project to digitize the collections of major libraries in the country. As noted in an editorial in the Boston Globe on October 10, 2005, the Google project has been halted due to the copyright laws governing all books published after 1923. When this issue is resolved, the cost of this project will likely be passed on to the consumer who wants to access it. It is the public library that will provide free access with helpful guidance to this literary database to all citizens regardless of economic status. Furthermore, a book is a friendly and universal interface that does not require a power source. Digital and print will continue to co-exist well into the future. Public libraries play a more critical role than ever in providing a variety of information services to all citizens and developing information smart communities.

Sincerely,
Christina A. Stewart
Library Director
Wilmington Memorial Library

How can we afford to turn it down?

Dear Editor,

My children have grown and I don't frequent the library as often as I used to. I am going to be on a fixed income within a few years. Yet I strongly support a new library - a center of learning, history, community. Yes, taxes will go up in a few years; that's what they do. The cost of living fluctuates and I have to make adjustments within my budget. The time may not be perfect, yet when the state acknowledges that in a very fiscally frugal year the Town of Wilmington is deserving of a significant grant - how can we afford to turn that down?

It will be many years before the State considers us again if we forfeit this opportunity. A vote yes now will be a vote for the town of Wilmington - for your community, the town's history and its future.

Thank you,
Leslie Dietrich

Those who forget history...

Dear Editor,

As we move ever closer to the vote on the new library, I thought it would be helpful to review the history of library votes in Wilmington, in the hopes of learning from history rather than being doomed to repeat bad decisions.

In 1965, plans were developed for a new library on Middlesex Ave. to replace the facility, which was then in the present-day 4th of July Building. Unfortunately, an article to spend $450,000 for a new library was defeated at the 1996 Annual Town Meeting by a vote of 279 no, 157 yes.

Happily, library supporters were persistent, and at two Town Meetings in 1967, land on Middlesex Ave. was acquired and then by a vote of 411 to 98, $485,000 was approved for construction of a new library. Construction was completed in 1969.

Scroll forward to April 2002: Annual Town Meeting approves the expenditure of $550,000 from available funds for the design of a new library at the Whitefield School site by a vote of 151 yes, 146 no. However, at a Special Town Meeting in August, once again the march of progress is halted by the rescinding of the earlier vote due to a disagreement on the library site, by a margin of 8 votes.

As a result of an intense effort led by Library Director Tina Stewart, the 2005 Annual Town Meeting approved the preliminary architectural design of the proposed library at the Swain School site and authorized the application for state funds. The vote was 217 yes, 176 no, and Wilmington was subsequently awarded a construction grant of over 3.3 million dollars in July 2005 by the State Board of Library Commissioners.

If the outcome in 1969 had not been a positive one, we might still be squeezing into the 4th of July Building today!

If the results on November 1st and November 8th are not positive, we will lose millions in state funding which may never be available again.

The two year delay in the library project has only added to the cost of construction. Let's take the long view and avoid the short-sightedness of the past. Instead of going backwards by standing still, let's move decisively forward into the future.

Disagreement on the value of a library

Dear Editor,

This is in response to a printed last week titled Library; Today and Tomorrow. The writer and we fully agree that the possibilities and opportunities for technology to positively impact the lives of our children are tremendous. The children of the technology age, "Millenials", as they are called, will have tools and electronic devices available to them that we can only imagine. This is a good thing.

Where we disagree, is on the value a State of the Art Library plays in a healthy and informed community, and society at large. The writer of last week's letter paints a bleak picture of society for our children and their future, a generation connected solely to electronics and disconnected from each other. Modern libraries are more than warehouses for books. They are becoming a community's "living room"; a place for learning, dialog, social interaction, cultural opportunities, and a community meeting place. If we believe, as it has been said that "Literacy is the most basic currency in the new economy of the 21st century" then we owe it to ourselves and our children to support the New Library by voting YES on November 1st and November 8th.

Sincerely,
Wilmington Tax Payers

...and those against

What about the rest of us?

Dear Editor,

The town of Wilmington has a very strong lobby group trying to convince the town that we need a spectacular new library. What about us, the taxpayers?

While I too would love to have a new library, I fear this one is far too large and expensive. What ever happened to fiscal responsibility? The pro library folks will tell you, all too quickly, that either you are for this library or you are a cretin that wants Wilmington to be illiterate and you are for the breakdown of society. I want a new or rebuilt library, but we also need other things.

We have a good school system, but our MCAS scores are below those of other towns. We have the age-old problem of no fire station in North Wilmington. Many of our municipal buildings are in terrible shape. We cannot drink the water from 60% of the wells and we have traffic problems all over town. We now have mount Wilmington in the Maple Meadow wetlands, and a potential trash rendering plant in the south end...

I believe that the library needs to be kept in perspective with the other needs of the town. I don't think that a library larger than the neighbors is needed. Both Tewksbury and Billerica have larger populations, with new Libraries that are smaller than the proposed one.

Why is it that those of us that want a reasonable approach to this topic, have no representation? There were several plans, including additions and buying adjacent properties. All the compromise plans have been abandoned, and we have been told it is all or nothing.

I think we should go to the special town meeting and tell the town's management that we want a reasonable plan to enhance the library, not a $13,000,000 testament to excess. Let's also not forget that a library that is over 200% the size of the current one will need a larger staff and higher maintenance costs. Let's also remember that a building that has a footprint 400% the size of the Swain school that it will replace will have a large impact on the parking in the area, which has not been resolved. Mark my words, if this library is built, we will soon be hearing about the new parking lot. We will be hearing about the new larger staff. We will be hearing about the new furnishings. We will be hearing about all the other larger infrastructure of the town that will be needed to support this new and huge addition to the town's holdings.

What we need to do is send a clear message to the town, we want a reasonable library plan, not this excessive, beat the neighbors boondoggle...

No more town debt!
No more debt exclusions!

Dear Editor,

The time has come to put a stop to our town officials' ungrateful attitude towards our tax bills. Tuesday, November 1, at 7:00 p.m. at the Wilmington High School Gym will be by far the most important day in Wilmington's history regarding our taxes. Any resident with concerns for their tax bills and ballooning town debt should not miss this Special Town Meeting. (Do not wait for Nov 8, town ballot vote, let's end this Nov 1). Our most recent, and increased tax bill for Feb. 2005 included a Town Topics Letter with some last minute hidden agendas from our shameless town officials which I will sum up for you here. It now seems two more Articles have somehow found their way into that Special Town Meeting Nov 1. One Article calls for even more debt exclusion for the property adjacent to the existing library. What the hell for you ask? A $30 million Town Hall. The other Article wants to amend the soil by-laws. Being a septic system owner, this article bothers me, as it should every home owner. It seems that our Town management continuously ignores the importance that prop 2 1/2 has for residents taxes (REMEMBER, NO TAX IS TEMPORARY). Debt exclusions are not the answer to those in-charge misappropriating our tax dollars. I will be surprised not to see all 15,000 or so registered voters at the Special Town Meeting given the circumstances we all face with the prices of gasoline, home heating oil, natural gas, electricity, etc. I'll thank you in advance for your NO VOTE, Nov. 1, on all Articles, as will all your hard working neighbors. Let's slam the door shut on these TAX TRAPS/DEBT EXCLUSIONS once and for all. One last thought, when was the last time you were able to water your lawn and garden without looking over your shoulder or at your watch? A sad, sad story for another day.

Now is the time

Dear Editor,

OKAY FOLKS! NOW IS THE TIME TO GET OUT THERE AND VOTE DOWN THIS LIBRARY! Everyone should read the letter in last week's Town Crier - Library; today & tomorrow by Jack Kavanaugh. Very interesting! Now, read the Town Topics that came out with your tax bill. The column from the Manager's Desk states that the Special Town Meeting vote "would enable the town to borrow funds over a 10-20 year period to finance the project (the Library)". Remember, we are still paying for the new safety building and the middle school for several more years. Any other tax increases needed to balance the budget , etc., would be above and beyond the library increase. Wonder why so many houses in this town have been put on the market? We are being taxed out of our own homes. With the heating bills, electric bills, gasoline bills to run our cars for work, etc., this town has a nerve to try to shove this library down our throats! We voted this down at a special town meeting two years ago. There were over 1,000 people in the high school that steamy night. LET'S GET THIS MONKEY OFF OUR BACKS ONCE AND FOR ALL.

This and That

by Maria Harrison

O.K., it's Halloween. I'm scared. I'm scared because we just came back from shopping for costumes for the grandkids. It should have been a tip off when I saw other parents and grandparents running out of the store with looks of terror on their faces. If course I'm talking about the store that specializes in pixie dust. You know, the one whose founder's name rhymes with Fisney.

As always, I accompanied my two daughters, two of my small granddaughters and my grandson on their trek for a Halloween costume. We had some errands to do first at the mall so the kids had been crying and dragging their feet every inch of the way. Then, they heard the music....Zippidy do dah, Zippidy yay....suddenly they stopped. Their eyes popped open and their feet began to leave the ground.

They charged into the store as they grew two more sets of hands each. It seemed as though they had multiplied themselves right before our eyes. We each took off after a child. By the time I got to my grandson, he had on Peter Pan's hat and Buzz Lightyear's boots. His face had a permanent smile that hadn't budged since we entered the store and his eyes were acting like radar taking in all he could in one glance.

I turned to see my one of my daughters chasing her daughter down the aisle. It's amazing how fast a three year old can run in plastic princess heels. I turned as my other daughter reached to stop her little pumpkin from climbing up the Little Mermaid display. She had already plopped the bright orange wig on over her long dark hair and it flew behind her as she tried to secure her footing.

"Look Mommy, Ariel!!!!" Her hands had just about reached the mermaid's tail when my daughter made the save.

I had my grandson by the hand for about one nano-second before he bolted toward Zorro. The next thing I knew Pan's hat was off and Zorro's was on and let's not forget that nifty sword. He swooped here then there with the sword with me trying to get in between the swoops.

"Honey, give Nana the sword," you are out in public so you don't want to raise your voice and lunge for the kid.

"Nana, look what I can do!" He swung the sword and just missed the Jasmin display where a mother was trying to pry a pair of shoes that curled up at the toes from her four year old's feet.

"Give those to Mommy," she smiled through grinding teeth. "We'll get those next time." This is something all mothers say in a vain attempt to get out of the store for less than a hundred.

We should just walk in, hand the extremely cheery person at the register a hundred dollar bill, then just sit down and read a book while the kids do their thing.

By the end of the hour, my daughters and I looked like the rest of the "big girls" in the store. Our hair was everywhere, mascara running down our faces and a kid firmly grasped in our hands.

The kids all looked the same too. Each child at the check out (and there was a line) held a hundred dollar outfit in one hand and a lollipop that twirled to the sound of "Someday My Prince Will Come" or "You've Got a Friend in Me" in the other.

Well, I guess this is what they mean about the official start of the holiday season.

Schlott Tire and Enterprise Bank

After leasing space for fifteen years, Stephen "Rusty" McKallagat decided it was time to take his full-service tire business to the next level. He purchased land to build a larger and more modern facility in Tewksbury. Rusty turned to the knowledgeable professionals at Enterprise Bank for advice in making the right financial decisions for this bold venture.

The result: a well-organized and highly efficient business in a spacious new facility.

Rusty's Enterprise Bankers offered him a customized package to meet some very unique needs. "They were quick and efficient in setting up this loan" said Rusty. "To me, it's all about the service and the relationship. The service was excellent, and they were there to help me every step of the way."

Tewksbury Public Library is joining hundreds of other libraries, schools and bookstores across the country to celebrate the eighth annual Teen Read Week. This year it's Teen Read Week X2, with two weeks of events at the library from October 17-28. Tewksbury resident honored for initiating safety and health training programs

Loftin recognized for both local and statewide contributions to vocational-technical education

BILLERICA - Shawsheen Valley Technical High School Superintendent-Director Charles Lyons recognized Albert Loftin, a Tewksbury resident who retired following a distinguished career as a Compliance Assistance Specialist at the Methuen area office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA).

"Mr. Loftin is as a prime example of how one person can make a significant difference in the lives of many," said Lyons during a presentation at Shawsheen Tech's Program Advisory Dinner.

Loftin was awarded a plaque from Shawsheen Tech with the inscription: "In grateful recognition of his most valuable and significant contributions to ensuring the accessibility to high quality occupational health and safety training programs for vocational-technical education students and teachers across the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

Although OSHA is a federal agency that is predominantly focused on occupational safety in the private sector workplace, Loftin saw great value to extending OSHA outreach training programs to vocational-technical high school students and their teachers. Because of his relentless efforts and perseverance during the last five years, there are now over 250 vocational-technical teachers in Massachusetts who are authorized OSHA trainers. These teachers are currently providing OSHA 10-hour training programs for both construction and general industry to several thousand graduating seniors each year.

Shawsheen Tech currently has nineteen authorized trainers to ensure each of the 264 senior students receives an OSHA 10-hour health and safety credential.

In addition, Loftin was also the driving force behind the creation of a formal OSHA Alliance Agreement, which was signed this past June by representatives of the following organizations: OSHA's three regional Massachusetts offices located in Methuen, Braintree and Springfield, Massachusetts Department of Education, Massachusetts Department of Occupational Safety, Massachusetts Association of Vocational Administrators, Massachusetts Teachers Association and Massachusetts Federation of Teachers.

The goal of this alliance is to ensure that the health and safety training and technical assistance needs of vocational-technical students and teachers are met both now and into the future.

Academy of Traditional Karate helps kids avoid abjuction/abuse

There will be over 55,000 non-family abductions in the US this year. 1 in 5 girls and 1 in 10 boys will be sexually abused before they reach adulthood. In response to these staggering statistics, Todd and Kristen Keane, owners of the Academy of Traditional Karate in Wilmington hosted a child safety day. The seminar was designed to teach children how to recognize common ploys and dangerous situations, thereby averting danger and guarding their safety. The teaching methods used were designed to speak to a 4-11 year old child's level of understanding without instilling fear, but instead, confidence and awareness. In addition to speaking, there was a video, a demonstration and several practice sessions for parents and kids to work on these life-saving techniques throughout the seminar. Over 150 people attended the seminar and continue to practice its teachings to avoid becoming like the unlucky children mentioned in these statistics. For more information about the Safety NET Kids seminar, the Academy of Traditional Karate, or the Amber Alert System, visit their websites at www.safety-netkids.com, www.traditional -karate.com, or codeamber.org or contact The Academy of Traditional Karate at 978-658-2077.

Plan holiday mailings early

It's never too early to start planning for overseas holiday mailings, according to Postmaster Joanna M. Louf, Tewksbury, and Terrence J. Griffin, officer-in-charge of Wilmington Post Office.

With thousands of American troops and civilians stationed around the world, the coming weeks will be a busy time for mailing international and military parcels and packages, they said.

They listed below the major dates recommended for mail to be delivered by Dec. 25.

*Nov. 12 - Parcel Post to military APO/FPO addresses

*Dec. 5 - First-Class cards and letters or Priority Mail to military APO AE ZIPs 093 addresses

*Dec. 10- First-Class cards and letters or Priority Mail to all other military APO/FPO addresses

*Dec. 5 - Global Airmail letters, cards and Parcel Post to Africa and Central or South America International Mail locations

• Dec. 12 - Global Airmail letters, cards and Parcel Post to other International Mail locations

*Dec. 19 - Global Express Guaranteed International Mail (except Canada, Dec. 20).

"We hope the publication of these dates will prove beneficial to persons mailing cards and gifts to foreign countries so they will arrive in a timely manner," they said.

They said the Postal Service's website www.usps.com can prove to be a helpful resource during this holiday mailing season, offering a wide variety of links to mailing and shipping tools.

Breast Cancer patients may be more susceptible to melanoma

NEW YORK, NY - Researchers have found a dangerous link between breast cancer and melanoma. In a recent study, statistics show that women diagnosed with breast cancer appear to have an increased risk of melanoma, particularly during the first year following diagnosis of the breast tumor.

"A woman with breast cancer should be considered at high risk for melanoma, and should be monitored very closely," reported Dr. Rony Weitzen, Institute of Oncology, Sheba Medical Center, in Tel Hashomer, Israel. Out of 51,000 female breast cancer patients in Israel between 1960 and 2000, 276 were reported to have melanoma, most of them within the year of their breast cancer diagnosis.

Although the reason for this correlation is unknown at this time, Dr. Weitzen hypothesized the link might reflect treatment effects, or changes in hormone cycles following breast cancer therapy. Whatever the reason, there are preventative actions you can take to protect yourself from melanoma.

According to the Skin Cancer Foundation, melanoma, the deadliest form of skin cancer, kills more young women than any other cancer. It is now the most common cancer in young women aged 25-29, second only to breast cancer in women aged 30-34.

Similar to breast cancer, the best way to detect melanoma is with a monthly self-exam. Examine your skin from head-to-toe, and be alert to suspicious-looking moles. Below, the Skin Cancer Foundation shows you what to look for:

ABCDE's of melanoma:

A – Asymmetry. Most early melanomas are asymmetrical. Common moles are round and symmetrical.

B – Border. The borders of early melanomas are often uneven and may have scalloped or notched edges. Common moles have smoother, more even borders.

C – Color. Common moles usually are single shades of brown. Varied shades of brown, tan, or black are often the first sign of melanoma. As melanomas progress, the colors red, white and blue may appear.

D – Diameter. Early melanomas tend to grow larger than common moles ¡V generally to at least the size of a pencil eraser.

E – Evolving. Look for moles that change in size, shape or color. Moles that change over a period of time are a common warning sign for melanoma.

For more information about how to conduct a complete self-exam, please visit www.skincancer.org.

In addition to monthly self-exams, the Foundation recommends taking the following precautions to protect yourself from skin cancer:

–Have a professional skin examination once every year.

–Protect yourself from the sun by applying a broad spectrum SPF 15+ sunscreen daily.

–Seek the shade, especially during the sun¡œs peak hours, between 10 am and 4 pm.

–Wear protective clothing, including a wide-brimmed hat and UV-blocking sunglasses.

The Skin Cancer Foundation is the only national and international organization concerned exclusively with the world¡œs most common malignancy ¡V cancer of the skin. The mission of this nonprofit organization is to increase public and professional awareness about the prevention, detection, and treatment of skin cancer.

ed business and one of the biggest obstacles when I started the company was raising the funds. It was hard to demonstrate that a small company could successfully deal with large sites," Delhome said.

In 1996, Delhome heard about the SBA's Business Development Program, known as 8(a), which is intended to help socially and economically disadvantaged business owners compete in the Federal Procurement Marketplace. The function of the SBA's 8(a) program is to assist these companies in acquiring equal access to the resources needed to develop their business and compete in the mainstream economy.

Delhome was nominated for the Massachusetts Small Business Person of the Year Award by Eva Marie D'Antuno, Deputy for Small Business, Department of the Army, New England District, Corps of Engineers. Once he had won the Massachusetts award, he was immediately considered on the regional level.

Massachusetts SBA District Director Maurice L. Dube praised Delhome for his accomplishments.

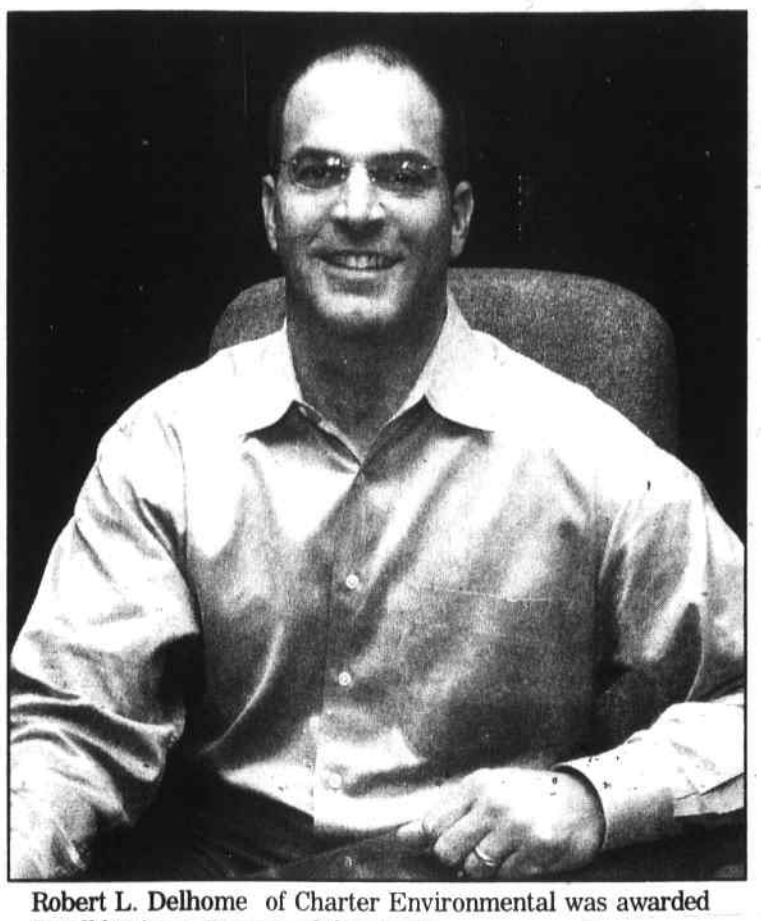

"Robert Delhome's success relates not only to his hard work, but to his flexibility within the marketplace," Dube said.

Charter Environmental, Inc. has been nationally recognized in both Engineering News Record and Environmental Business Journal as one of the county's top environmental firms. Clients include consultants/engineers, contractors, private sector clients and government agencies.

Delhome is delighted that he has had the opportunity to make his business a success.

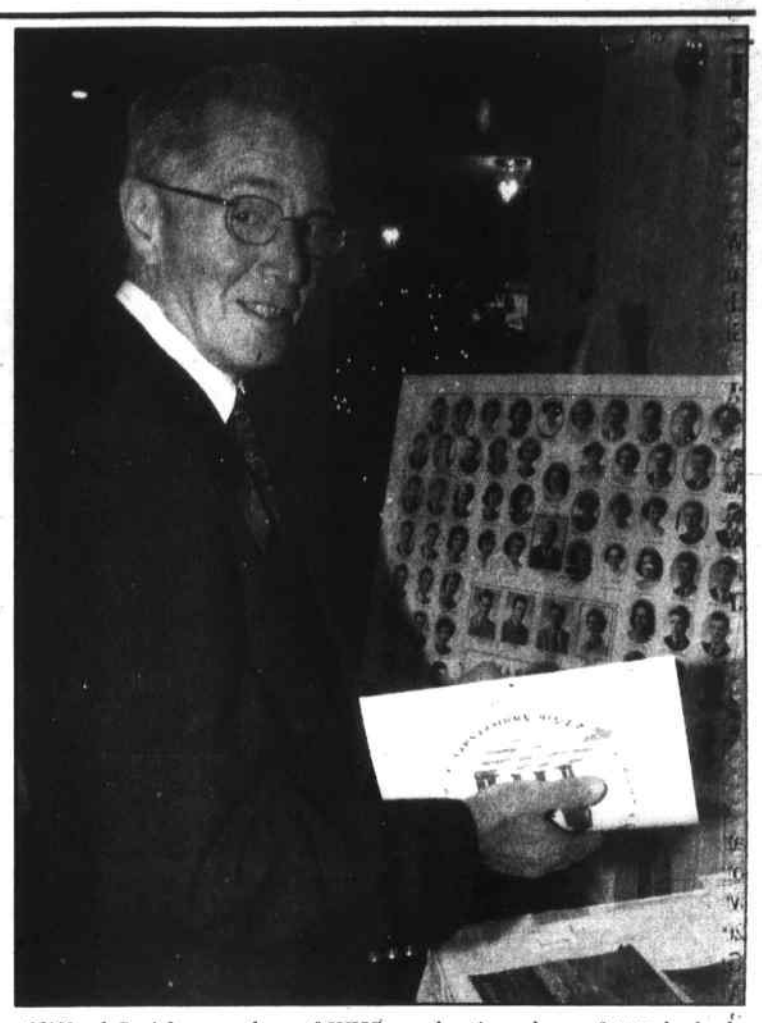

"I like to give back to the community by hiring locally," Delhome said. "About forty percent of my staff is from local outreach programs in Lawrence and Lowell. I get to receive the awards but I owe it to a great team of employees and terrific customers."

Delhome's company is active in many charitable organizations such as the Pan Mass Challenge and the Special Olympics. They have recently donated their services to rejuvenating a wetland area in Chelsea as a learning tool for schools.

Tambone has agreed to accommodate the town on all points.

There was much discussion about the height of the buildings and what the Fire Department's current equipment can handle.

"There are some places where the pitch is just under forty-five feet, forty feet is the standard," Sullivan explained. "You're going to have that kind of pitch when you are dealing with something that is sixty-eight feet long."

But Board of Appeals member Martha Stevenson disagreed with the height assessment. Looking at the plans, she pointed out, "It says right here in the plans that this pitch is fifty-seven feet."

"It's very deceiving, it's really less than forty-five feet," Sullivan said.

"We will be looking at the height again," Tambone said. "We haven't defined that space yet."

Representative Miceli took the floor and stated in no uncertain terms that the MBTA was far from blessing the project and that the Mass Highway Department was nowhere near making a decision either.

Miceli also stated that Board of Appeals member Edward Loud had already made up his mind. According to Miceli, Loud had been sitting next to one of Miceli's assistants during a function and conceded to her that he was not in agreement with Miceli's viewpoint on the project. Loud recalled the function, but denied making the comment.

"She is willing to state under oath that you told her that you and I were on opposite ends of the spectrum when it comes to this project," Miceli said.

"I absolutely deny that accusation," Loud said. "I will tell you the same thing I tell anyone that challenges me on these matters. How can I make a decision on something I haven't even seen yet?"

The density of the project became a topic of discussion, but it appeared that Tambone was not entertaining the idea of decreasing below 108 units. The project was originally presented to the town last year with 153 units. The developer came back in December of 2004 with a proposal of 128 units before most recently coming in at 108.

"Better to get the mitigation ($150,000 promised to the town) instead of cutting down on the units," Tambone said in response to a call to decrease the density further. "If we cut the units, the mitigation dollars go down."

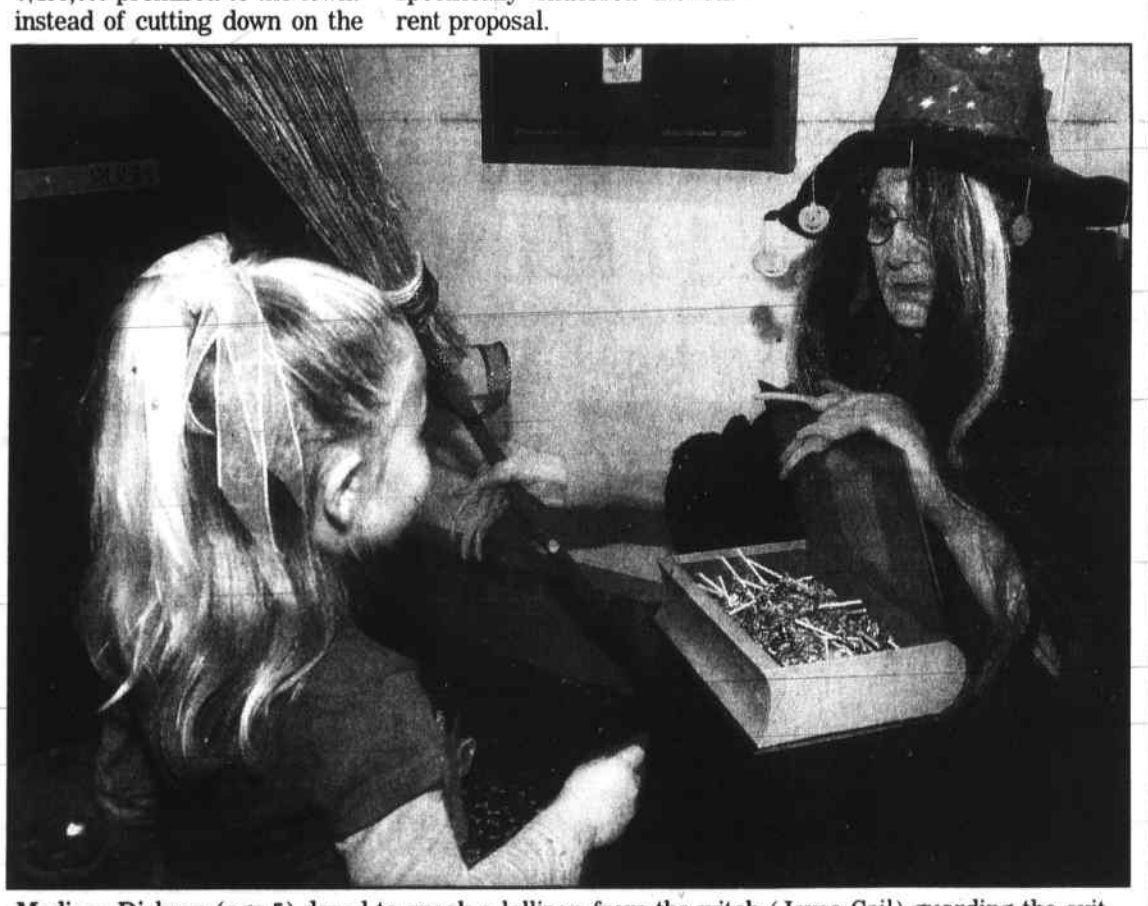

Other issues such as water pressure and a different exit to Main Street were also brought up. Area residents wanted to see a second egress from the property, but surrounding wetlands will not allow for it.

Selectman Suzanne Sullivan stated for the record that the Board of Selectmen voted to endorse the concept of housing on that property, but had not specifically endorsed the current proposal.

"It's not just the traffic, but the aesthetics," Sullivan said. "Our business district is turning into a housing district."

The Board of Appeals will conduct a site walk this Saturday at 10:00 a.m. to aid them in their consideration of all the points discussed in the memos from Town of Wilmington department heads as well as the concerns of the local residents.

The Crystal Commons project will next be addressed by the Board of Appeals during the November 21, 2005 meeting.

Mass. Regiment, the Danvers Alarm List and the Lexington Training Band.

The Wilmington Minutemen will have members in attendance, however as they represent a different time period - pre-April 19, 1775 - they will not be in uniform, to avoid confusion.

A cooking fly (tent) will be set up on the Common, along with a cooking fire. The women will demonstrate making mulled cider and other treats for the soldiers, as they would have done on an actual muster day in the 18th century.

The 2nd Mass. Regiment emphasizes drills, safety and authenticity in its musters. Their maneuvers are mostly about keeping close-order form.

Other demonstrations at the muster will include a woodworking setup, a doctor with period implements, and a spinning wheel.

If enough youngsters come to see the muster, the 2nd Mass will conduct a children's drill, where kids will be able to march in close-order drill with wooden stick muskets.

Members of the Wilmington Historical Commission will be present, distributing information about the Butters farmhouse, and selling historical publications.

To give some historical perspective, the Minutemen represent the local militiamen who responded on the 18-19 of April, 1775, at the very outset of the Revolutionary War. When Gen. George Washington took command less than three months later, the Minutemen disbanded and many of the men joined the Continental Line.

READY TO MARCH TO WILMINGTON: Members of the 2nd Mass. are coming to town to help save the Butters Farm, not from the Red Coats but from the bulldozer. Look for them on the Wilmington Town Common on the 29th. Stop by and enjoy a visit with the Continental Line Army.

Solid Waste Plan

and reduce costs for businesses and municipalities.

One of the key issues that residents brought up over and over again during the hearing, was the export of waste out of Massachusetts to other parts of the country. According to the DEP, as state landfills fill up, more and more of our waste will be shipped out of state via the railways. Net export of waste is projected to be between 1.1 and 2.5 million tons by 2010 and nearly 3 million tons by 2012. This does not sit well with many of the state's residents.

"I have done a geological study based on the average solid waste in the state," said one resident. "Counties such as Essex and Plymouth receive form 130 percent to 170 percent more waste than they generate. Middlesex County receives about 30 to 40 percent more than it generates. If I can do this study, so can the DEP, in fact much of the data came from their database. They need to use their own data to identify the need in each county for waste disposal."

A member of the Headwater Stream Team stated, "Local trash should stay local. Once it leaves our borders, it becomes somebody else's problem. Waste is a commodity and should be treated as such. Unregulated and un-permitted transfer stations are a pending threat to throw the Master Plan out of whack."

A Lowell resident said, "Enforcing the waste ban would help. People should be held accountable if they break the ban."

Activists, John McNabb, Legislative Director of Clean Water Action, and Paul Schramski, Community Organizer for the Toxics Action Center, were in agreement that the DEP has done well with the draft plan, but could still do much better.

They stated that the current moratoriums on incinerators and landfills must be upheld as well as restoring the bottle bill and making producers of waste responsible both legally and financially.

According to Clean Water Action and the Toxics Action Center, the problem with incinerators is that they are large producers of airborne mercury, a deadly chemical that when burned, is blown back out into the atmosphere through the incinerator's stacks. When mercury becomes airborne it is inhaled by humans and settles on the ground seeping into water supplies and contaminating nearby farms and gardens. There are about one hundred municipal waste combustors (incinerators) throughout the country. Seven of them are in Massachusetts.

Many of the residents giving testimony also felt that landfills are a threat to the environment because they all eventually leak toxins into the ground contaminating water supplies.

One Wilmington resident told the DEP that they had let Wilmington down.

"Waste deposits were in excess of the agreements in Wilmington and poor records were kept. We are still trying to resolve the landfill cleanup and contaminants that fell into the water supply. It's very discouraging."

Other citizens were surprised that some of the most toxic of contaminants were not specifically mentioned in the DEP's Solid Waste Master Plan or in it's recommended revisions.

One member of the DEP working group said, "I am surprised that carpet is not listed as a priority. Six billion pounds of carpet is disposed of yearly. It comprises one and a half to two percent of all waste, and 8 percent of all landfills. Eliminating the carpet waste would extend the life of a landfill."

Another resident stated, "Biomedical hazardous waste has not been mentioned. We need on site processing capacity; the technology is there. Vendors want the DEP to be proactive in technology. Right now we are shipping the waste out west, but the wind blows east - back to us!"

Anyone that did not attend the meeting can still provide testimony by November 4, 2005, in writing to John Fischer, Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection, 1 Winter Street 8th floor, Boston, MA 02108 or email to john.fischer@state.ma.us

Football team will face five heavy hitters

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Much like the Major League Baseball schedule-makers who put the Red Sox and Yankees together on the first and last series of the season, the Cape Ann League football schedule-makers also made this year's schedule fan friendly.

Since the Cape Ann League has been divided up into large and small school divisions, the large school teams start off facing the small school teams, until facing all of the large school opponents in the final five weeks of the season.

But since Wilmington faces Newksbury, a non-league opponent on Thanksgiving morning, they face Lawrence, a large school opponent earlier in the season.

Now that six weeks of the season is over, five of the six large school teams are undefeated. Wilmington, Masconomet, Triton, Pentucket and North Andover are all perfect at 6-0 overall in the standings, while Lawrence is winless.

Wilmington, Masconomet and Triton are all 6-0 against league opponents, while, North Andover and Pentucket are both 4-0, both having played two nonleague games.

Last year the 'Cats had to defeat Pentucket, Triton, Masconomet and North Andover four straight weeks earning the team its first solo CAL title and first trip to the playoffs since 1976. Wilmington again has the same four teams in the next month which should make things really interesting as the merry go round will be spinning heavily into the month of November.

"Yeah, here we go," said Wildcat head coach Bob Almeida.

Wilmington starts its run this Friday with a home contest against Pentucket, and follow that up with road games against Triton and Masconomet before finishing out the league schedule home against North Andover.

North Andover faces Lawrence, Pentucket, Triton, Wilmington and Triton in the final five games.

Triton will face Masconomet, Wilmington, North Andover, Lawrence and Pentucket.

Pentucket has Wilmington, North Andover, Lawrence, Masconomet and Triton.

And Masconomet will match up against Triton, Lawrence, Wilmington, Pentucket and North Andover.

Phew!

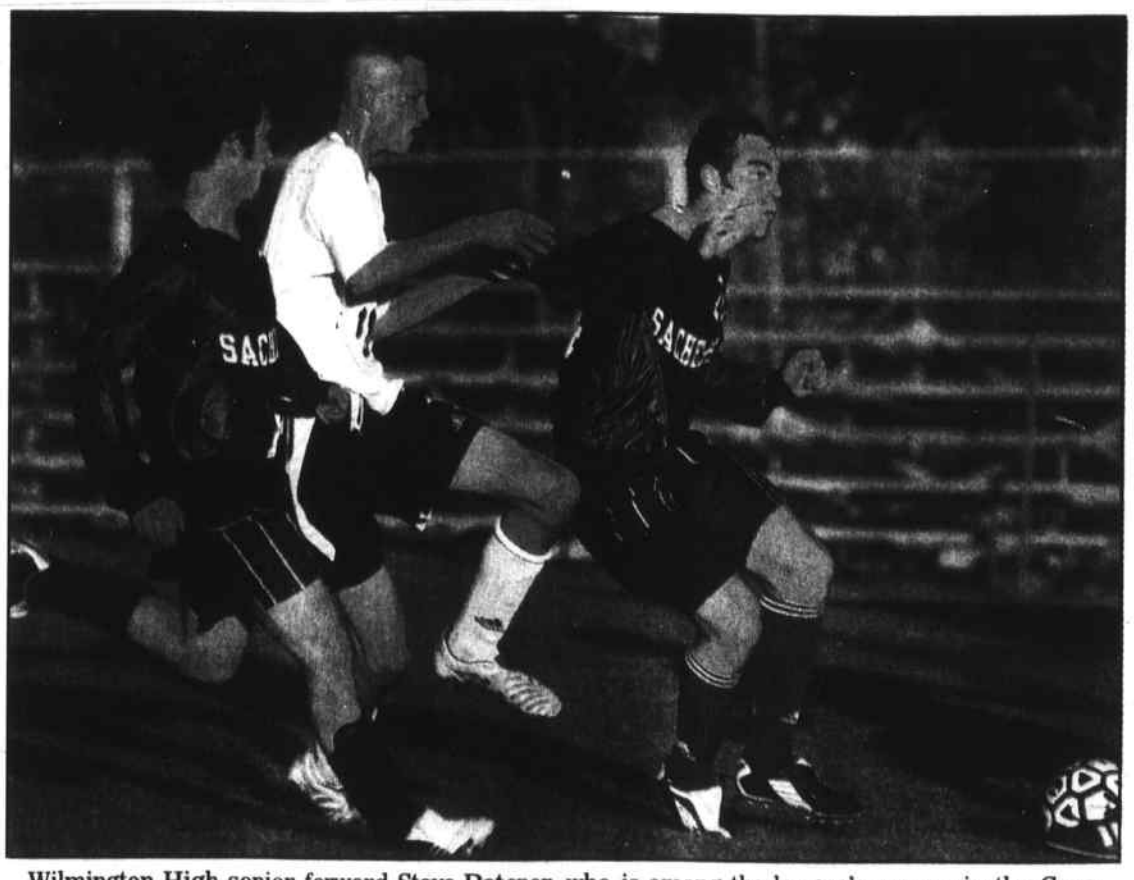

"I couldn't tell you who the best team is," said Almeida. "There's five teams who are very evenly matched in every way. Some play better defense and some play better offense. They are all really good teams, every single one of them. It's top heavy but the whole half of it is very good. We're in for a dogfight every week and we're excited about it.

"To be honest the kids are really looking forward to this and it should be a lot of fun."

Last year's second half run by the Wildcats was one that will never be forgotten. First Wilmington defeated Pentucket, 26-14, behind big games from quarterback Joe Herra and receiver Sean Murphy, while Ryan Olivieri came up with a huge interception late in the game.

Then Wilmington doubled up over Triton, 28-14, as four dif-

Boys soccer team pulls down several opponents

After being humbled at home in a loss to Hamilton-Wenham more than a week ago, the Wilmington High boys soccer team rebounded very nicely with a pair of victories and a hard tough loss to Ipswich.

With the 2-1 week, the 'Cats are now 6-4-2 overall and 4-4-2 in the league and need just two wins or four points in their last six games to qualify for the state tournament.

Last year the team missed out on the tourney by one point, after two long successful runs in the tournament the two years prior.

"Definitely we are playing better," said head coach Steve Scanlon. "But at the same time I feel that we've given some points away. We tied Tyngsboro and we should have beat them and then we didn't show up against Newburyport or Hamilton-Wenham.

"If you take the tie and turn it into a win and one of those two losses and turn that to a win and I think we'd be knocking down the door right now. But we are playing a lot better."

The week started last Wednesday facing a very strong Ipswich club. The Tigers jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead scoring both goals early on in the first half.

The score remained the same until the start of the second half when the 'Cats really turned it on netting a pair of goals to tie the game up at two. Senior captain Brian Sullivan took a free kick from about 40 yards out and the ball nailed off the goalie's hands and in cutting the deficit in half at 2-1.

Just seconds later, Sullivan had another free kick from about 40 yards out and the ball went to the center of the box where senior Steve Potcner headed it in.

But with about 25 minutes left to play, Ipswich got the eventual game winning goal.

"We thought Vinny (Papageorgiou) made the save but the referee said that the ball broke the plane," said Scanlon. "I wasn't down there to see it but I don't think the referee was either. The kids didn't think it went in and I just think that's a tough call to make in a 2-2 game. I would have liked to see the game go longer at 2-2 and see what happens.

"But we stung them with those two goals and they were a much different team when we took it too them. But that controversial goal took the wind out of our sails. We then pulled everyone up late in the game looking for a goal and they scored another goal making it 4-2."

Two days later on a soggy, muddy field, Wilmington too on Rockport at their place. Taking care of business, the 'Cats came away with a 4-0 victory. Potcner scored two goals while Sullivan and PJ Russo added the others.

Russo, Mike Auciello and Potcner added single assists, while the tandem of Papageorgiou and Jesse Belding combined for two saves and the shut out.

Then on Monday afternoon, Wilmington recorded its second straight shut out, this one over the much improved Manchester-Essex squad, 2-0.

"They are by far the most improved team in the league," said Scanlon. "I think now (after we beat them) they are 4-2-5. Just last week Masco had to score a late goal to tie them up. I was definitely concerned because Manchester is a very good team with some real good players."

The teams played to a scoreless half with Auciello having the best bid for the 'Cats but his shot heading towards the top right corner but turned away on a nice save by the Hornet goalie.

Then in the second half, the 'Cats started to pour on the pressure and finally got a goal. Auciello sent a pass up the sidelines to Mike Earls, who crossed it to the middle to Russo, who came running it and timed the pass perfectly and deposited one to the back of the net for what became the game winning tally.

"It was just like you draw it up on the chalkboard," said Scanlon.

The teams continued to play back-and-forth until the last final few minutes of the game when things got interesting. Because they were down 1-0, Manchester decided to have its

Big week, big season for Ungvarsky

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

Just when it seems the story of Wilmington High senior golfer Zack Ungvarsky can't get any better he somehow manages to top himself. He has made a habit of doing that all season long on his way to earning Cape Ann League Player of the Year honors, but this week may have been his most impressive example of that yet, as he was able to improve on a championship performance from one day to the next.

On Monday afternoon at Beverly Golf and Tennis Club, Ungvarsky tied for the individual championship in the Division 3 North Sectionals, shooting a 2 over par 72 under horrible weather conditions to earn the title.

And if that wasn't good enough, he followed that performance up with an even better one on Tuesday afternoon at the Far Corner Golf Course in the CAL Open when he shot a four under par 68, including eight birdies to capture the tournament crown.

Along with accepting the CAL championship trophy on Tuesday, he also picked up the Player of the Year plaque in recognition of his outstanding play throughout the season.

Ungvarsky got the week off to a great start on Monday, not letting the windy and cold conditions get to him, although he does wish he had a couple of shot back.

"It seems like the weather is always like that in the state tournaments, so it didn't really bother me," Ungvarsky said. "My only complaint would be the greens because it was tough to get the speed down on a lot of them. But it was the same for everybody and everybody left some shots out there due to the putting."

But most people left a lot more shots on the course than Ungvarsky. And it may have been his attitude about playing in the windy conditions that carried him to victory.

"A lot of people feel like if you

Golf team places sixth at sectionals

After last year's 12-0 regular season and Cape Ann League championship, along with a three way tie for the Division 3 North Sectional championship, there was a lot to live up to for the Wilmington High golf team and new coach Mike Rowinski.

While the Wildcats 6-6 regular season record this season might have seemed like a step back, it will likely be looked back on in the years to come as a giant step in the right direction as many young players got some valuable varsity experience for the first time and should be ready to compete at a high level next season.

"I was happy for the kids that they got to experience qualifying for and playing in the state tournament," Rowinski said. "Overall I was happy with the season. We had some new kids this year and we still competed very well."

One player that it will be impossible for the Wildcats to replace will be CAL Player of the Year, senior Zack Ungvarsky. Ungvarsky continued his remarkable play this season by tying for medalist honors in the Division 3 North Sectionals on Monday after-

Girls cure offensive woes

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

After posting just one win in their first nine games against a very tough Cape Ann League schedule, the Wilmington High girls soccer team rebounded nicely this past week taking care of business against Ipswich, Rockport and Manchester-Essex.

Wilmington outscored the three teams 18-1 and improve their record to 4-6-2 overall. That means any combination of 8 points between wins and ties in their final six games will qualify the team for the Division 2 North sectional tournament.

"It's nice that we can put some shots in the net," said head coach Sue Hendee. "The caliber of opponents has been a big difference. The way the schedule was made up made it very difficult for us. I think it's showing a lot of character by the girls that they are still playing hard and they still think we're going to qualify for the tournament because I certainly think we can.

"I really believe that we can win every single one of our remaining games. If we can do that I think that's the kind of momentum we want to carry into the tournament."

In each of the last two seasons the team has won a first round state tournament game before losing in the second round. If Wilmington is defeated three times in its final seven games, it will not qualify for the state tournament.

The rest of the team's schedule certainly favors Wilmington. Of the remaining six games, only once do the Lady 'Cats face a team with a record above .500 and that's Lynnfield (7-3-2) who defeated Wilmington earlier this season. Of the other five games against Tewksbury (twice), Amesbury, Triton and Georgetown, those five teams have a combined record of 13-24-7.

Last Wednesday the Lady 'Cats blanked Ipswich, 5-0, as Katie Cole led the way with two goals and an assist, while Alicia Murray, Danielle Bamberg and Nadia Prinzivalli added single tallies. Amber Warnick, Brianne Bozzella, Kat Strazzere and Karla Ellis also contributed with single assists.

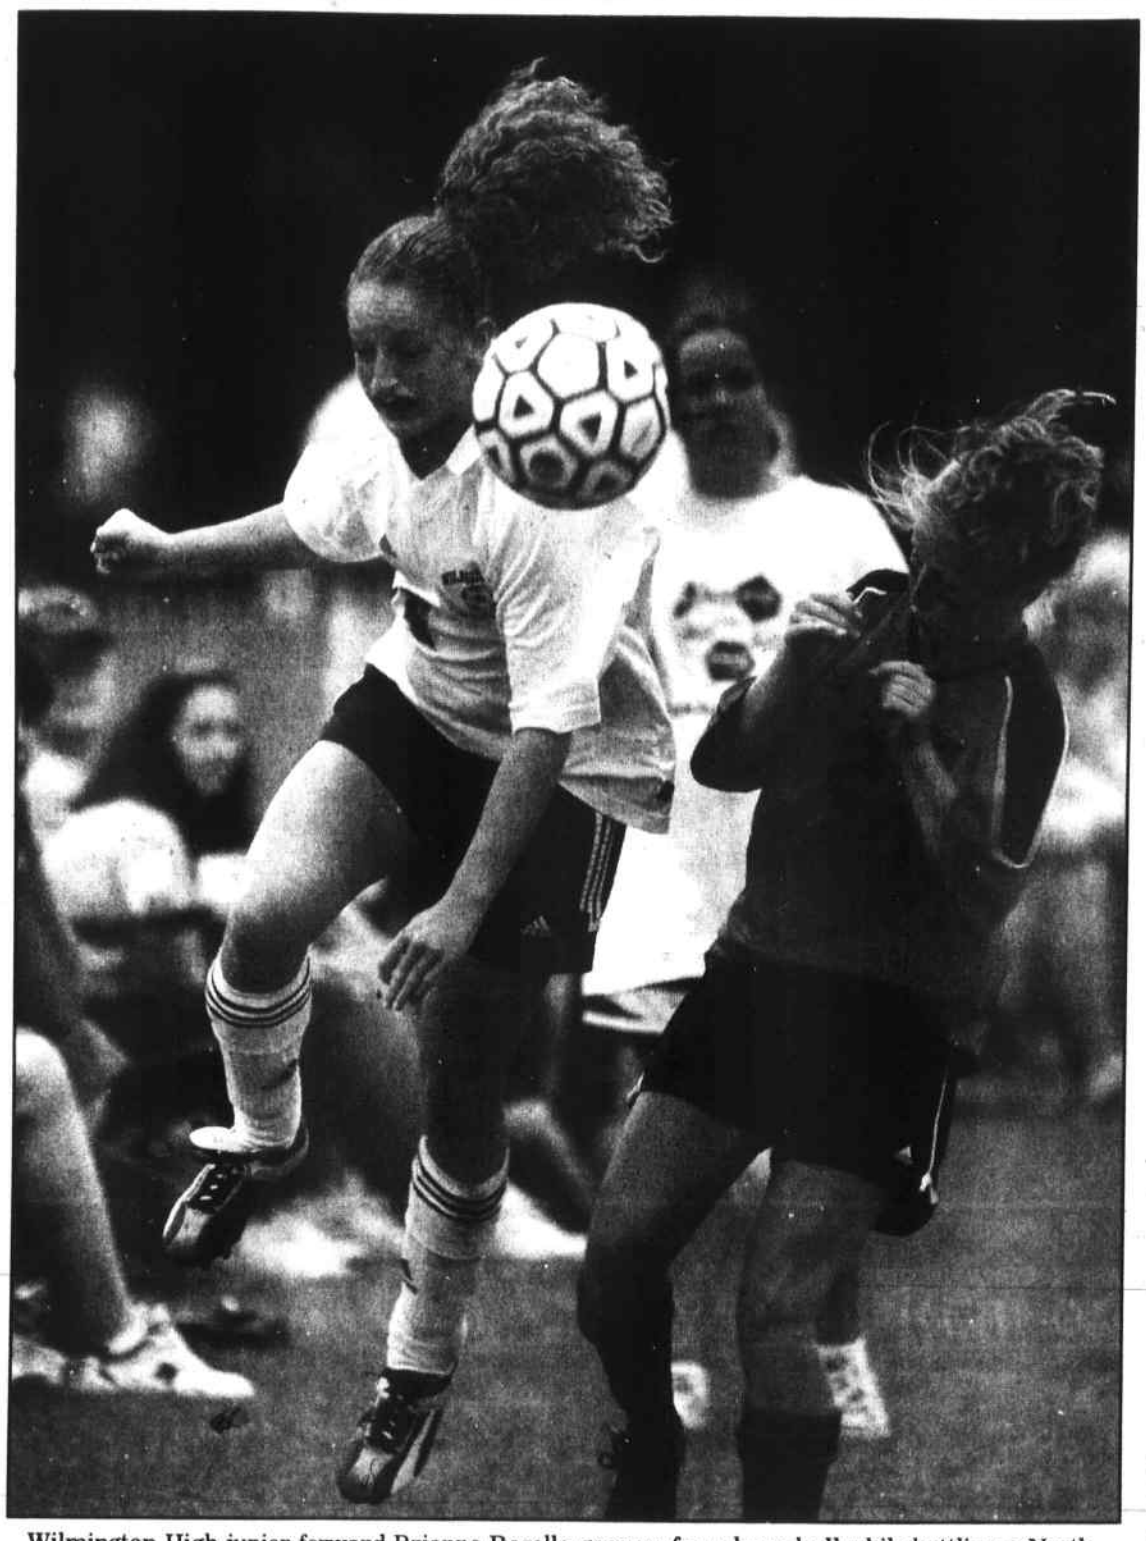

Goaltenders Ashley Poirier and Alyssa Brown played a half each, combining for three saves and the shut out.

On Friday afternoon despite torrentail rain and a very dark field because of the clouds and the late start, the 'Cats trounced Rockport (3-7-3), 7-1. Prinzivalli led the way with two goals and an assist, while Bozzella also had two goals. Karla Ellis, Jen Comer and Jackie Mello -- who played just a few minutes after she sat out the previous 10 games with Mono -- also had one goal each.

Freshman Nicole Bockus had two assists, while, Strazzere, Sam Canning and Murray had single helpers.

On Monday, Wilmington traveled to Manchester-Essex and came away with a 6-0 victory. Bozella and Strazzere scored two goals each while Jen Comer added one. Poirier and Brown made three saves each and combined for the shut out.

Wilmington resumes play this Saturday with a 10:00 am contest at Strong Field in Tewksbury against the Lady Redmen. Then on Monday the 'Cats will host Amesbury at 3:45 at the Shawsheen School.

goalie come up to the midfield area. Wilmington though, had a scoring chance when Russo came out of the 'Cats end with the ball. As the goaltender was backing up, Russo tried to chip the ball over him and let it bounce into the net. But the Manchester goalie got a hand on the ball trying to make the stop, and was ruled for intentional handball, which is an automatic red card and ejection from the game. Wilmington was awarded a free kick from about 22 yards out and off a set play, Potcner nailed a shot to the top left corner that was tipped by the new goaltender. Chris Azevedo then came storming in and drilled home the rebound to put an exclamation point on the victory.

"That was great to see," said Scanlon. "Azevedo works out so hard and does a real nice job defensively for us and for him to score his first varsity goal was really nice to see."

Potcner now has 12 goals and 4 assists and before Monday's game which he added an assist, he was the league's top scorer.

Wilmington will be on the road for its next three games, including Wednesday's match-up against Lynnfield while this paper was being printed. Then on Saturday the 'Cats will take on Tewksbury in the first of two non league games against the neighboring town, who has a 4-7 record after Monday's 4-1 loss to Chelmsford.

On Monday, Wilmington travels to Amesbury for a 3:45 pm Cape Ann League match up.

Girls soccer tri-captain

Ellis stands tall in the Blue corner

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

On the field, Wilmington High senior Karla Ellis doesn't stand out. She's solid in pretty much every area and every facet of the soccer field, but won't dominate games. But it's what she does off the field that makes her stand out.

"Karla has really stepped it up this year and taken control of the team," said Wildcat girls soccer coach Sue Hendee. "She's been great organizationally. She took control of the raffle and the fundraisers we've had. She's just a really responsible, good kid.

"She always has something positive to say. I don't think I've ever heard her say anything bad about anyone."

Ellis has been an outside midfielder for the girls team in each of the past three seasons. After being an intricate part to the team's two straight Cape Ann League championship titles – as well as two state tournament victories – Ellis was elected one of three captains to this year's team and has continued to be a solid, all-around player for the team who strives in team work, good passing and her top skill of taking corner kicks.

Over the past two seasons, Ellis has been the one the team calls upon to take all of the corner kicks. With a very strong leg, she's very consistent with her boots which especially in the past two years eventually led the team to many goals.

On Friday, she took her share of corner kicks in the team's 7-1 victory over Rockport, and although on this day none of her corners worked out for goals, she came through again in a different manner. Just 12 minutes into the game she scored her first goal of the season.

"I was just racing down (the left wing side) and Kat (Strazzere) crossed (the ball) through a bunch of people and I was able to pound it in," Ellis described. "The goalie got a hand on it but it trickled past her and in the net. We work a lot at practice on timing runs so that's probably why I got that shot in."

That goal helped open the flood gates as six of her teammates followed with their own tallies as the 'Cats improved to 3-6-2 overall, giving them a two game winning streak which came after non winning in eight games.

"We're doing better now," she said. "We had a tough losing streak there for a while but we're doing better now. We have got into the swing of things so hopefully we can win the rest of our games. I think it's because we have a lot of new players.

"We really didn't have much experience at the start of the season and I think now it's starting to catch up and things are working out."

If the team would like to get back to the state tournament for the third straight season, Hendee knows she can rely on Ellis to help steer the team in the right direction.

"She's a pretty good soccer player," said Hendee. "She gives outstanding crosses and outstanding on the corner kicks. I was glad to see her score today because I think that's her first of the season and that was good to see."

Long way to go for Field Hockey program

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

With just one victory and just two goals scored this entire season, Wilmington High field hockey coach Carol Mutchler certainly knew coming into the season that her team lacked experience, especially in the crucial positions.

And although there's been some progress made this season and the fact that a good majority of the team will return for the '06 season, Mutchler knows there's several significant areas the entire program needs to focus on so a one win season isn't duplicated.

"I think the girls have to realize that they might not be as good as they think," said Mutchler. "They're not strong. It's not that the girls lack focus but in practice you could tell them something and they'll do it. But to transform that skill from practice to game situations the girls have a lot of problems with."

In the past, boys soccer and ice hockey coach Steve Scanlon spoke about the lack of offseason work from the core of his program and he thought that really hindered the team's chances of being successful in terms of wins and losses.

This soccer season, Scanlon has seen a handful of his players really emerge because of a much more concentrated effort in the offseason. Mutchler is hoping for the same.

"Not playing in the summer has really hurt the team," said Mutchler. "And I hope if they look in the mirror they can see that."

This past week the Lady 'Cats were defeated by North Andover, 5-0, last Wednesday and then to Pentucket on Monday, 2-0. The North Andover loss was a perfect example of how the season has been so difficult.

"We played an excellent first half," said Mutchler. "We were down 1-0 at half and I thought we did so many things well. But then in the second half, I think maybe five minutes in, North Andover scored and then they kept setting up and kept scoring. They scored four goals in six minutes. I had to take a timeout and ask what was going on?

"Then after the timeout the girls got it together and played tough again but by that time the damage was done."

On Monday afternoon, Wilmington was defeated by Pentucket, 2-0, pushing the 'Cats record to 1-14 on season, while it was also the 13th time this season the team has been shut out. Goalie Katelyn McGrath made five saves in the losing effort.

"It was better than the first time we played them and lost 5-0," said Mutchler. "They scored a goal in each half. It's the same thing with us - we're just playing defense. We had a couple of chances to score but we whiffed on the shot or something happened.

"We're just not getting any shots from within the circle. Then in the second half fatigue became a factor."

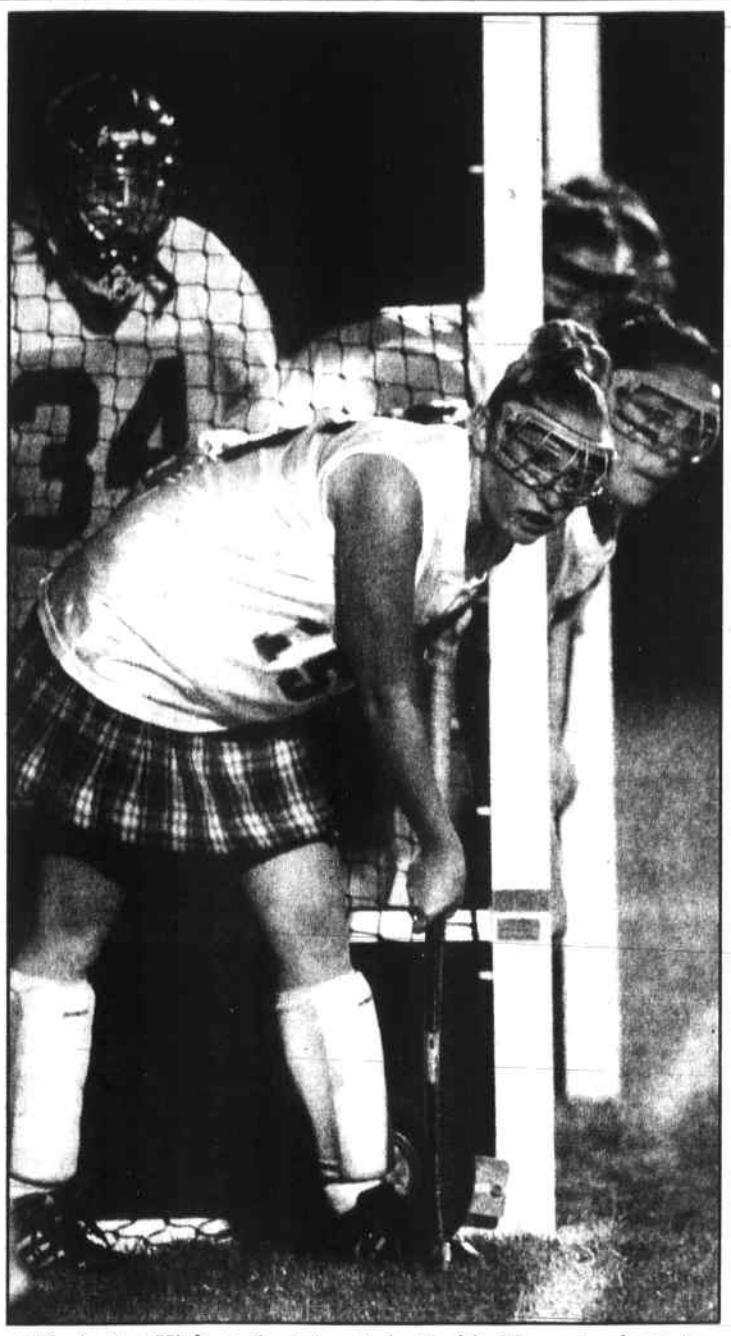

Mutchler has been very pleased with the efforts of some of her players including senior midfielders Adrienne Fisher and Jessica Ham, while, juniors Shiloh Bramantecohen and Danielle Robarge continue to get better.

"Adrienne and Jessica have been very solid in the midfield for us," said Mutchler. "They both log a lot of minutes and never come off the field. They have played very well and I think have really been overlooked. Robarge has come a long way and I think Shiloh is starting to get the feel of it. She's scrappy and always goes to the ball."

Mutchler will be losing 10 seniors off this year's team but will have about a half of dozen players returning with solid varsity experience under their belts.

"The JV team seems to be fairly solid but no standout players," she said. "We haven't had a group of girls who have had the undefeated freshmen and JV seasons in probably three or four years. I'm hearing that the middle school kids are good and aggressive so hopefully those girls will stick to the sport and we can get something going."

Wilmington has three games remaining against last year's Cape Ann League champion Amesbury Indians, followed by Triton and then a make-up against Newburyport witht he date yet to be announced.

Wilmington High senior tri-captain Jackie Moran is about to race out and defend a corner for the field hockey team during a recent CAL game played at Alumni Stadium.

Golf team takes sixth place at North Sectional Meet noon. This capped a season where he was the medalist in all but one of the Wildcats matches.

"Zack just had an unbelievable year," Rowinski said. "He was so consistent for us every time out there this year. There is no doubt in my mind that he is the best player in the league."

In the sectionals at Beverly Golf & Tennis Club in Beverly, the Wildcats finished 6th out of 16 teams. As a result of their finish, they were eliminated from the tournament, as only the top four teams advance.

Ungvarsky tied for first with Mike Goodwin of Wellesley with a 2 over 72, while the Wildcats next highest finisher was junior Jason Evans who finished with an 84.

"As a coach you are never happy not to move on, but I thought we played pretty well," Rowinski said. "Overall I was pleased. We were the top Cape Ann League team, so I thought it was a good showing."

With the conditions far from ideal, most scores were higher than normal. The wind played havoc with the players all day, and the wet course certainly did not help matters any. Along with Ungvarsky and Evans, other Wildcat players were seniors Joey Dimare and Jeff Youngclaus who each shot a 94, and sophomore Charlie Waitt who shot a 107.

"You might not think that shooting a 94 or 95 is great, but on this day it was very good," Rowinski said. "In Jeff's case he had one bad hole. He had a 12 on one hole, but still managed to shoot a 94."

Rowinski had similar words of praise for the young Waitt, one of the players he will be counting on most next year.

"Again a 107 does not sound like a great score, but hit the ball real well and he gained a lot of experience," Rowinski said. "Medal play is really tough for kids, but it is a great learning experience."

Now that his first season as coach has come to an end, Rowinski can look forward to next year when he will return several key players as the Wildcats try to make a move back to the top of the CAL.

Among those expected to lead the way for the Wildcats will be Waitt along with freshman Mike Chairacosta and junior Brendan Sheehan.

"Charlie Waitt just got better every time out. He just needs to play more golf. I expect big things from him. And I also expect big things from Mike. He should be a real good four year golfer for us," Rowinski said. "Brendan hits the ball a long way. He just needs to work on his short game a little and he will be quite a player."

Sophomores Tim Cushing and Brandon Anderson will also see expanded roles with the team next year.

"The two of them got in a lot of rounds of gold which should really benefit them," Rowinski said. "They also got to see what kind of work players like Zack, Jason and Jeff put in to continue to get better."

With all of the quality players returning, Rowinski is definitely looking forward to the future. But he is also happy to look back on a first season to remember.

"I had a great time," Rowinski said. "It takes a little while getting to know the kids, but I was fortunate to have a great group of kids. I enjoyed coaching them."

Wilmington High sophomore tight end Kyle Borsetti stretches out to make a catch during the team's win over North Reading in week five action played at Alumni Stadium.

Dominate on the road again

'Cats put Pioneers to sleep

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

LYNNFIELD – For the sixth straight weekend, the Wilmington High football team jumped out to a strong start, dominating the first two quarters, while the opposing team tried desperately to play catch up.

Despite the torrential downpours, the slippery field conditions, the Wildcats traveled to Lynnfield on Saturday and moped up the Pioneers with ease, 38-6.

Wilmington is now 6-0 on the season and will face the tougher portion of its schedule starting with a home contest Friday night against rival Pentucket Sachems beginning at 7:00 pm.

Wilmington combined for 346 total yards of offense including 307 on the ground on just 22 carries on Saturday. That averages out to just shy of 14 yards per carry. Among the 22 carries were four fumbles – two the 'Cats lost – thus the team would have averaged 16.78 per carry.

Senior All-Scholastic quarterback/free safety Joe Herra had another impressive day. As the signal caller he completed just 3-of-8 passes for 39 yards with one TD strike, but defensively he picked off two more passes -- giving him 8 interceptions on the season – including returning the first one for an 85-yard touchdown ending Lynnfield's threat to score on the game's opening series. Herra also picked up a Pioneer fumble.

Offensively, senior back Zack Mayo added two more scores of 30 and 46 yards respectively and ended the game rushing the ball four times for 87 yards. Rich Barry added three carries for 55 yards, including a 35-yard TD run on the second play of the third quarter.

"Offensively, I was very pleased," said head coach Bob Almeida. "I thought under the conditions, with the wet ball, that Joey threw the ball very well and we got several kids involved in the running game. I know a lot of our backs didn't get many touches today but when they did they did a great job."

Lynnfield's offense started off impressively moving the ball with ease from its own 32 to the 'Cats 23 including a pair of first downs. But on third-and-two, the Pioneers went to the pass and quarterback Steve Paladino's toss went right into the arms of Herra at the 'Cats 15 yard line. He rushed up field before switching gears from his left to his right going untouched for an 85-yard TD run.

"We were pretty concerned because they were able to spread us out early on and hit on several medium range passes," said Almeida. "But then they made a mistake on one and we were able to capitalize on that and it was basically over from there."

Lynnfield turned the ball over on a fumble as Herra pounced on the loose ball giving Wilmington the ball on its own 47. Three plays later Mayo ripped through the middle of the Pioneers defense for a 30-yard TD run making it 14-0 with 2:39 remaining in the first quarter.

Lynnfield went three-and-out and again the 'Cats took the ball over on downs and scored. This time the 7-play drive started with two plays in the first quarter and ended with a 19-yard TD strike from Herra to Greg Stewart making it 20-0.

The score remained the same until the 'Cats officially broke the game wide open in the third quarter. Running just three plays, the 'Cats scored twice and combined for 111 yards of offense led by the 35-yard TD run by Rich Barry followed by a 46-yard run by Mayo making it 32-0 with 6:56 left in the third quarter.

Both teams scored once in the fourth quarter including Wilmington's Zack Fahey who went 71 yards on a carry to his left, coming with 4:41 left in the game.

"For whatever reason coming here puts you to sleep," said Almeida. "It's raining every single time we come over here. We don't really love coming here but we're glad to get this one behind us."

Wilmington hosts Pentucket (6-0) on Friday night beginning at 7:00 pm for the first of five straight very difficult opponents with Triton (6-0), Masconomet (6-0), North Andover (6-0) and Tewksbury (3-3) to follow.

Football team will face heavy hitters

ferent players scored. Masconomet came to town next and that was arguably the best game of the season as Stephen Downs' overtime touchdown gave the 'Cats a 20-14 exciting victory at home.

Then it came down to a Sunday afternoon game on the artificial turf at North Andover High and Zack Mayo scored three fourth quarter TD's giving Wilmington a dramatic come from behind 30-29 victory for the league championship.

With all of the teams now facing one another over these next five weeks, a million scenarios could happen where one team emerges in front of the other four. But for the Wildcats, it'll start with a big game this Friday night at home against Pentucket.

The Sachems have won six of the last seven meetings including three straight at Alumni Stadium. The 'Cats last defeated Pentucket at home in 1997.

Pentucket comes in to the game with four shut outs in its six games. The Sachems have outscored its opponents, 192-12, giving up a touchdown each in the romps over Bishop Fenwick (40-6) and Amesbury (33-6) while the team has shut out Newburyport (27-0), Gr. Lowell (28-0), Ipswich (37-0) and Hamilton-Wenham (27-0).

Wilmington has outscored its opponents 220-38 and also posted victories against HW (28-14) and Newburyport (35-6).

"Pentucket is outstanding," said Almeida. "They play really good defense. They are very vanilla. They play a fifty defense like we do, and they just play great defense. They are very disciplined. Everything the tackles are suppose to do they do, the linebackers read well, the ends squeeze the C Gap, their secondary is always in the right position and they are just a very good defensive football team."

Remaining games for undefeated teams

The Cape Ann League Large Football Division is very crowded with five teams -- Wilmington, Masconomet, North Andover, Pentucket and Triton -- all undefeated so far. There's five weeks of the regular season remaining and all of the large school teams now face one another in the final few weeks of the season which should determine the league champion. Wildcats need to win three of four

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Expectations can sometimes leave you at unease. Just ask Wilmington High girls volleyball coach Mark Staffier.

"Last year I wasn't expecting much and the team totally surprised me and we advanced to the (sectional semi-finals)," he said. "This year I expected us to come out like gang busters and one week we look good and the next week we don't. I don't get it. I do think we can still qualify for the tournament but it's a matter of us putting everything together."

After being swept 3-0 by North Andover on Monday, the 'Cats now have a 6-8 record. With four games remaining against North Reading, Hamilton-Wenham, Lynnfield and Lexington, the 'Cats have to win three of those four games to qualify for the state tournament for the fourth straight season.

In two of the last three seasons the 'Cats have advanced to the Division 3 North sectional semi-finals, meaning four wins away from a state championship.

"It's going to be real tough because North Reading and Lynnfield are both very good," he said. "But we seem to always get up for North Reading. Maybe it's because they are rivals or because they beat us last year in the tournament but I'm hoping that's the fire that gets us going."

Besides the inconsistent play from the team, two major problems have been occurring. On Monday the team's serving was poor and that led to many easy points for the Scarlet Knights who came away with 25-21, 25-18 and 25-20 victories in the three game sweep.

The second problem, which Staffier thinks he has solved is back row defense.

"Leejoy Villafuerte had probably a half of dozen digs in the back row on Monday and did really well," he said. "I've been rotating so many different players into that back row. Whenever I throw someone in there it seems like they step up for one game and then the next game they aren't there.

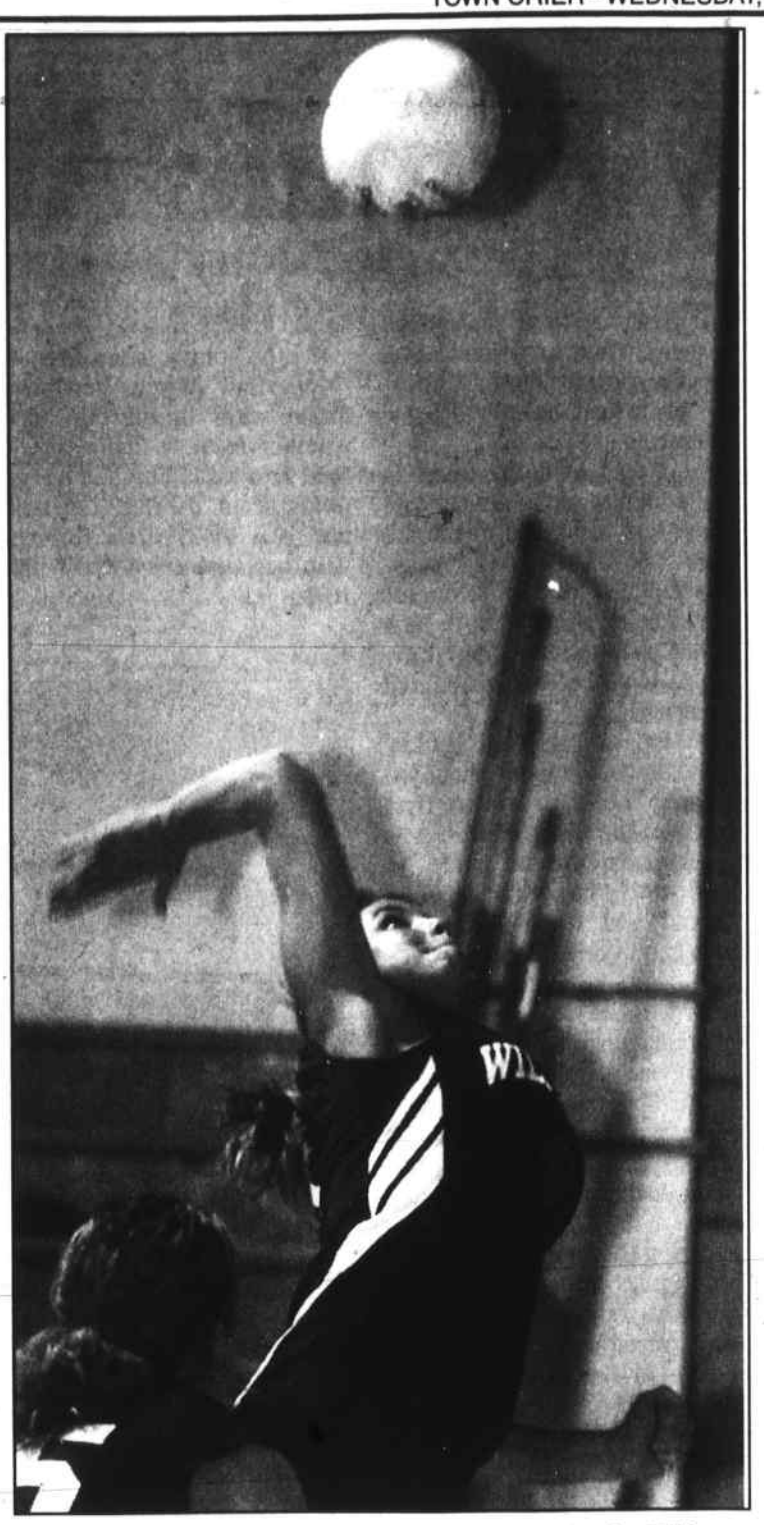

"I've told the girls if they want to play, I need someone back there. Leejoy has played great two games in a row so I'm hoping she can solidify that spot."

Besides Villafuerte's efforts, Staffier said senior Jill Guzienski had about 8 kills and played a strong game while senior co-captain Kelley Lemke had about 12 digs as well.

"We missed on some serves and that really killed us," said Staffier. "When the games are close those missed serves are magnified and that has such a big impact on the outcome of the game. I thought defensively we got to a ton of balls and were really digging everything sent to us. But the miss serves just leaves me scratching my head again."

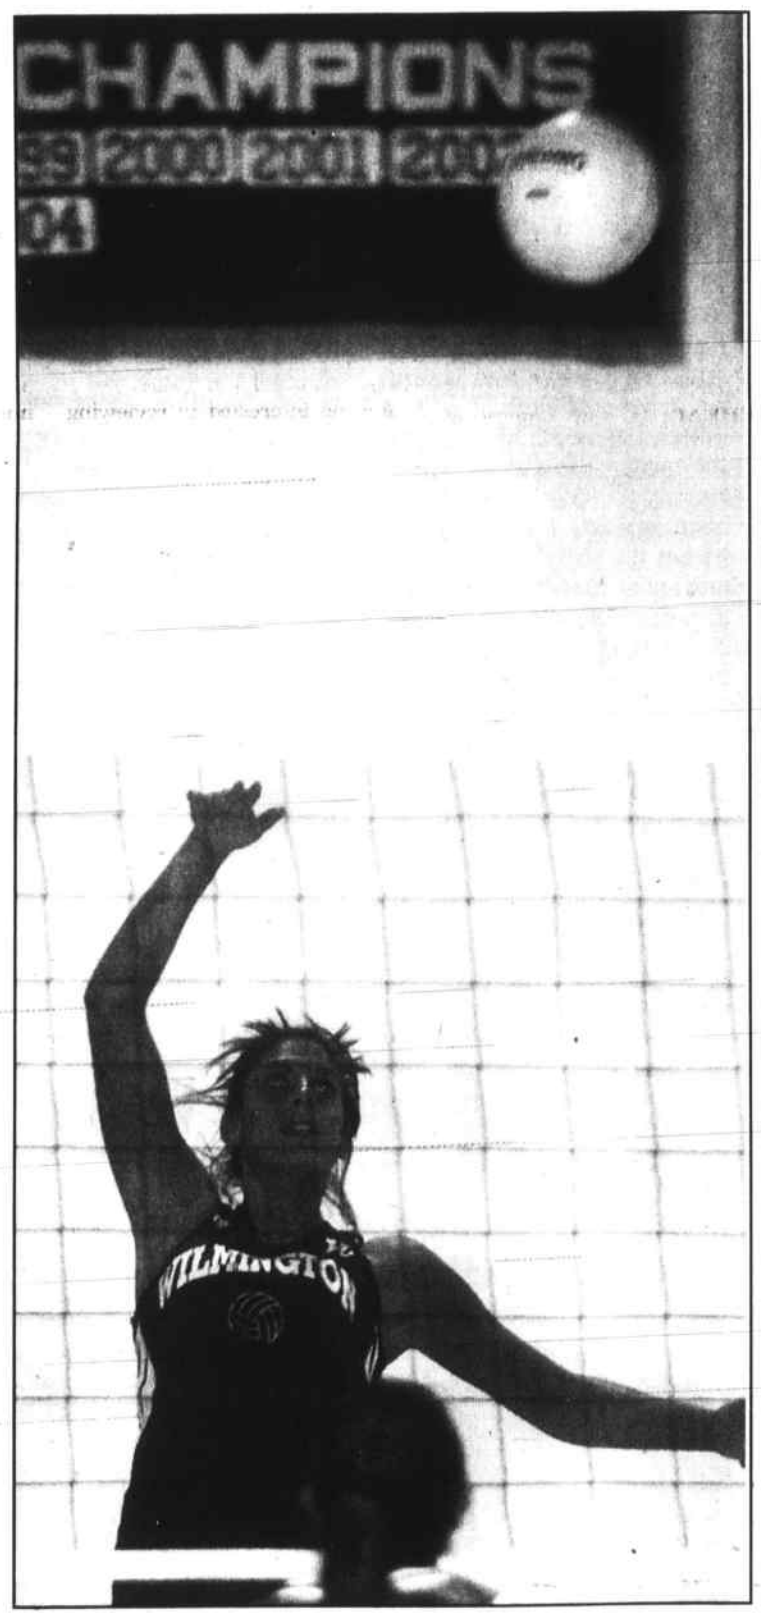

Last week the 'Cats defeated Masconomet, 3-2. Staffier said junior middle hitter Ashley Vitale had her best game of the season with about 15 kills.

"She played great in all five games," said Staffier. "It was by far her best game of the season."

Cross Country teams defeat Georgetown

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

He and they both hoped it would happen and yes it finally did. Last Wednesday afternoon, Tom Bradley and the entire girls cross country team enjoyed its first victory of the season with a 19-36 victory on the road against Georgetown.

And for the icing on the cake the boys team also came out with a 19-44 victory pushing their record to 2-6 overall. The girls are now 1-7.

Both teams finished out the regular season with a pair of tri-meets first on Wednesday afternoon against Hamilton-Wenham and Lynnfield and then Tuesday at home against Manchester and Ipswich. Bradley hopes the teams can sneak in a few victories.

"The Georgetown girls team had a lot of middle school runners but I was still happy for our girls to come away with the win," said Bradley. "Every single girl did a personal best for us so that means they are coming along."

Freshman Natalie Russo came across first at 20:25, followed by Ivy Co at 24:39 and Lauren Waring at 25:10 as the Lady 'Cats had the first three place finishers. Lauren Hitchins and Megan Keane came in sixth and seventh at 28:12 and 29:47, respectively to help support the win.

The boys also did extremely well.with 9 of the first 10 finishers. Senior captain Tom Miele was the overall winner coming in at 18:14 and then after a Georgetown runner it was all Wildcats. Sean McPherson was third overall with a surprising time of 18:58, followed by Tim Korajczyk (19:13), Tyler Summers (19:15) and Andrew Marra, did very well coming in seventh overall at 19:25.

"Sean did very, very well," said Bradley. "That was his best race. Andrew has really been coming on. He takes big chunks off his time every meet. He's a very, very quiet kid and I think if he continues to come along like he has been, he'll make a big impact in the next few years."

Amanda Robichaud comes through down the stretch for the girls cross country team during a recent CAL Meet at home.

Wilmington Mite C's show strong team work

The Wilmington Mites C's had a tough schedule this past weekend with back to back games. 'Team-work and hard-work' is the motto for these games.

Saturday, October 15, Wilmington vs. North Reading. Wilmington was lucky to have Andrew Brown as goalie. Even with the strong and tough defense of Matthew Sutton, Bridget Santos, Nicholas Deming, and Doug Millar and the outstanding offense of Patrick Farrell, Quinton Foley, Quentin Distefano, Jack Kilday, Nicole Khachadourian, Steven Gioux, Cam Pickett, Joseph Chasse and Jacob Perkins, they could not get the victory they strived for.

The highlights of the game were the first period goal by Bridget Santos, the great passing of Quinton Foley and Cam Pickett, the diving defense of Doug Millar, the hussle of Quentin Distefano and Patrick Farrell, the amazing shots of Jacob Perkins, the two amazing saves by Andrew Brown in the second period, and the goal of Jack Kilday with 52 seconds left in the game. Even with all that, the final score was North Reading 5, Wilmington 2.

Then early Sunday, October 16, Wilmington got on the ice again to play against Reading. What an exciting and fast game. Andrew Brown again showed great skill and determination as goalie. The two teams went head to head for the first two periods keeping it a scoreless game. The defense of Bridget Santos, Doug Millar, Matthew Sutton and Patrick Farrell played tough. The offense of Quinton Foley, Quentin Distefano, Jack Kilday, Cam Pickett, Ryan Donovan, Jacob Perkins played skillfully. The third period, Reading brought the game up a notch and scored two goals.

But that did not discourage the Mites C's, for Quinton Foley managed to get a fast one by Reading. With the score, Wilmington 1 and Reading 2, Wilmington took Andrew Brown out of the net with one minute to go.

Unfortunately, Reading was able to get by and score. The final score was Wilmington 1, Reading 3. Again the Wilmington Mite C's played like the pros that they are. Great job everyone!!

Top Ten Tewksbury Female Athletes

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Now that the rain has cleared up, so have some extra pages leaving us some room for the second of the six-part series of columns. Here in week No. 3 comes the Top Ten Female Athletes from Tewksbury High School that I've covered since the fall of 1994.

In compiling a list like this, athletes who had success both as an individual and as a member of a successful team weighed heavily. The belief of the big picture whether it be all-star, all-conferences, league MVP nominations, or whether an athlete helped a team get to the state tournament, to a state championship or so forth had a lot to do with coming up with such a list.

Secondly, also weighing heavily, although was not the ultimate factor, was athletes who played more than one different sports. Those who dominated just one sport were left off the list.

10). Nikki Venuti, Class of 1999

One of my all-time favorite student-athletes to cover, Venuti was an outstanding three-sport athlete.

Soccer was by far her best sport. She was the team's sweeper back and really controlled the team's defense. Although the program didn't enjoy any winning seasons, Venuti stood out because she could kick the ball further than any female soccer player I've ever seen in my 11 years of covering the girls soccer program.

She cleared the ball out with the mere power, but more importantly her free kicks and corner kicks were as good as you'll ever see. Longtime boys soccer coach Steve Levine said that he wished she had played for his team during her four years at Tewksbury High.

Venuti was a very tough, physical player who was dynamic defensively on the soccer field. She brought everything to the table each and every game and was voted to the all-conference team several times.

On the basketball court, Venuti was a very scrappy and intelligent player. She had very good speed and played tenacious defense helping the team qualify for the state tournament as a junior, which included a state tournament victory before losing to Masconomet, behind guard Brianne Stepherson who only scored 2,000 high school points before playing four years at Boston College.

On the softball field, Venuti was the team's best player. She was a line drive hitter, who led the team in every offensive category. She also was a vacuum at shortstop, leading the team to several state tournament appearances, including single handily defeating then perennial power Wilmington in the playoffs during her senior season with several tremendous defensive plays.

9). Sarah Kenney, Class of 1995

Simply put the best hurdler the school has ever seen. There certainly have been some good ones, but none so gracefully as Kenney.

She worked very diligently on becoming the best she could possibly be, really emerging to elite status her junior and especially her senior season.

Her best success came in outdoor track. During her senior season she broke a school record in the 100 meter hurdles with a blazing time of 14.9 seconds, a record that still holds to this day.

She went on to great success in the post season, including winning the MVC Meet in the same event before finishing third at the New England Meet with the same 14.9 second time.

She was also a part of the school record 4x100 relay team that spring, which finished very high in all of the post season meets with a best time of 51.6 seconds.

8). Danielle Delponte, Class of 2005

In the 11 years here as Sports Editor, there's only been a very selected female athletes who have graduated from TMHS and have gone on to get an athletic scholarship and Delponte is one of them as she took her talents to the University of Connecticut.

She played four years on the varsity softball team as the team's catcher, leader and best hitter. Defensively she dominated games as she threw out all but one base stealer in both her junior and senior seasons. She had a lethal arm and did a terrific job calling pitches and settling down hurlers when they got in trouble.

At the plate she has a very smooth swing from the left handed box and was a constant run producer with more extra base hits than singles. She found the gaps early and often with rips to the outfield grass on consistent basis.

She helped the program get into the state tournament all four years including being behind the plate when the team went to the North sectional final in 2002 as a sophomore.

In her senior year, she was named to the All-Conference squad in both field hockey and softball, while being named Co-League MVP on the diamond. In field hockey she dominated games with her long, hard hits that traveled the length of the field allowing the speedy forwards to catch up to it and score. Again she helped that team get into the state tournament each of three years she was a part of the team, including 2003 when the team reached the North sectional final losing to Watertown in overtime.

7). Andrea Toland, Class of '00

The amazing thing about Toland was her athleticism, really. As a freshman she made the girls varsity basketball team and was a solid player until leaving the program after her sophomore season to concentrate on track. She was one of the best middle distance runners the proud program has ever had.

On top of that she joined the volleyball team because her neighbor Nancy Dumond, the program's coach at the time, talked her into trying out for the team. After years of being in the cellar of the MVC, Toland helped the Lady Redmen qualify for the state tournament in three of the four years she was a part of the team. The team hasn't qualified once since she her senior season of 1999.

As a member of the girls outdoor track team, Toland was a part of a legacy as the team finished 33-0 in her four years, including four straight MVC Small School titles, and a Class State title in 2000.

In her junior year she finished fourth at the Class C Meet in the 400 and followed that up with a fifth place at the all-state meet, an 8th place at the New England Meet with a best time of 58.8 seconds.

That came after a sensational winter season where she did very well in the 600 at the State, All-State and New England Meets, while she also participated at the National level. She was also a part of the state champion 4x200 relay team.

Besides her tremendous athleticism, Toland became the great athlete because of her incredible competitiveness. There hasn't been too many athletes who hated to lose more than she did.

Toland went on to run at Bentley College but suffered through several injuries which limited her participation.

6). Sue Perkins, Class of 1997

Another student-athlete who could pick up any stick, or ball and become very good at the sport. Perkins excelled in three sports at Tewksbury, field hockey, basketball and softball, however, she played a lot of ice hockey growing up.

Perkins was very versatile and really bailed the field hockey team out during her senior season. Normally a defender who was solid in the back, Perkins was asked by head coach Pat Ryser to become a goalie because the team was really struggling in that area at the time. Perkins said yes and became one of the best goalies the program has had. Despite not having any knowledge of the position, Perkins excelled inbetween the pipes because of her great instincts and natural athleticism helping the team get into the state tournament which was basically unheard of at the time for the program.

In basketball, Perkins was a very solid player, who grabbed rebounds, who played tough defensively.

On the softball field she again was a lethal force both with the glove and with the bat. Defensively she started the trend of the program having many outstanding shortstops as Venuti and Kelly Boyle followed her, none of them missing a beat that she started. She had a very strong arm and could really throw out a lot of base runners despite being deep in the hole.

And at the bat she was a very powerful hitter, who enjoyed many extra base hits. Like field hockey, Perkins was a big factor into getting the softball team into the state tournament which was also new for that program during her tenure.

5). Courtney O'Brien, Class of 2004

O'Brien was blessed with tremendous speed which really helped her become very strong on the field hockey field, on the basketball court and on the track. Her skills in field hockey helped her get a scholarship to Bryant College in Rhode Island where she is playing today.

Field Hockey was her best sport, not because she was fast and could catch up to every loose ball, but her stick handling was very strong, her passing was solid but more importantly she really had a nose for the net. She led the team in scoring and was among the leaders in the league in her junior and senior seasons.

She was a huge reason why the team had so much success in the post season, including two heartbreaking losses to Watertown in the sectional semi-finals and then the sectional final.

On the basketball court, she made so many things happen because of her speed and basically because she never stopped hustling. She was everywhere on the court, burying three-pointers, making layups but more impressively her defense was outstanding, always finding ways to cause turnovers.

She was also a member of the track team and had good success in the long jump and as a member of several strong relay teams.

4). Laura Petros, Class of 2000

Blessed with tremendous speed, Petros really excelled here at Tewksbury and could have excelled in many other sports. The thing that totally blows me away is she was a good all-around performer for the cross country team during her freshmen and sophomore seasons. Then as a junior she left the sport to join field hockey only to lead the entire league in scoring.

She would lead the team to great things as a senior, and then went to have a wonderful career at UMass-Lowell, playing for one of the strongest Division 2 programs in the entire country, while only having two years of high school experience.

On top of her field hockey dominance which included helping the team win its first ever league title, Petros was phenomenal on the track. In 2000 with the team missing Toland and Rachael O'Brien who had injuries, Petros scored 18 points including being crowned the 200 meter state champion as well as being part of the second place 4x100 relay team. She was always clutch. She was also a part of the 33-0 track program over the four years including the four league titles.

During the winter season, she was a part of the state champion 4x200 relay team, and was also versatile scoring many points in the long jump and other short distance runs.

While she was very strong in running and field hockey, Petros also grew up playing a lot of softball and could have easily been a starting player on the diamond.

3). Holly Perrin, Class of 1996

While Toland ranks up there of athletes who hated to lose, Perrin by far of leaps and bounds over any single female athlete who has ever played at TMHS, was the most competitive person to walk through the halls. She simply hated to lose.

Perrin was one of the best three sport athletes ever. On the soccer field she was the sole reason why the team hovered around the .500 mark each year because her goaltending skills were above and beyond the means of normalcy. The Billerica game stands out when she made 40 saves in a scoreless tie.

She wasn't the tallest of goalies but she played like one, making all kinds of leaping and diving saves, doing anything she possibly could to keep the round black and white ball from bouncing past her.

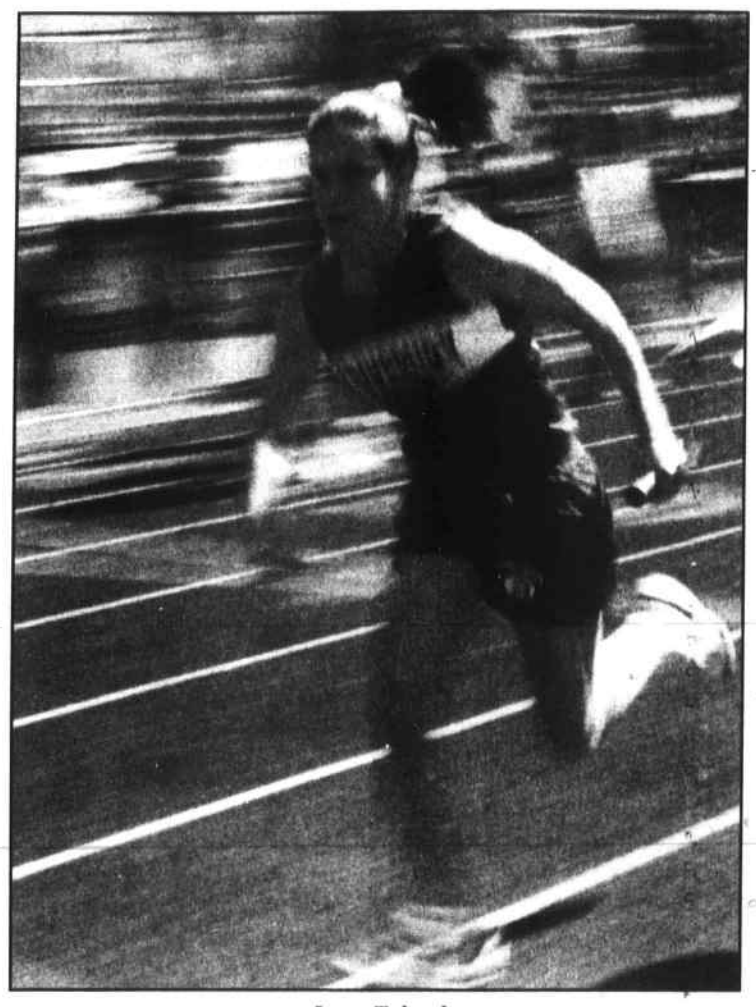

On the basketball court, she didn't bury shots left and right and pour in 25 points a game, but she played very tough defense and was just a sparkplug because of the way she played the game.

On the softball field, she was by far the best defensive catcher I've ever seen. Nothing, I mean nothing ever, ever got by her. She really knew how to block pitches in the dirt, when to put her body in front of a bouncing pitch and how to slide her legs over properly to save a runner from getting an extra base.

At the plate she was a "MoneyBall" player. She always found ways to get on base whether it be a single to left field or a walk. She had a nice swing from the left hander's box and also came through with her share of doubles and RBIs.

Kelly Boyle

Jenn Takach

2). Kelly Boyle, Class of 2003

Boyle was named the Town Crier's Female Athlete of the Year three straight years, including as a sophomore in 2000, as a junior in 2001 and as a senior in 2002. After graduating from TMHS, she received a softball scholarship to play at Sienna College in New York.

Boyle was limited by injuries but when completely healthy she dominated the soccer field, the basketball court and especially the softball diamond like no other athlete could.

In soccer she started off as a defender as a freshman and was solid there. But as a sophomore she was the team's new goalie and never left the position. She was remarkable that season, and then as a junior she helped led the team to its best season in program history, finishing at 15-5-4 including a nice run in the state tournament.

Boyle made terrific saves because of her athletic ability, but mostly because she would dive and flop around keeping everything away from the net.

The basketball court unfortunately, no one saw what she could really do because of knee and back injuries. But when she played she was dynamite, mostly with assists and defense. She really knew how to organize, run plays and get the right person the ball at the right time. She would score her 12 to 15 points a game but would have 7 assists and help keep a team under 40 points which was really instrumental in the team's success in the very tough MVC.

Softball was by far her best sport. The best came when Tewksbury would play Chelmsford and their head coach Bruce Rich would play four outfielders because he didn't want Boyle to hit the gaps and be driven in on a ground ball. As a freshman she led the entire league in hitting, and then belted over .600 as a sophomore. She helped that program to its best ever season, reaching the Division 2 North sectional final as a junior, the same game where she got hit by a pitch and broke her wrist.

1). Jenn Takach, Class of 1998

No other athlete has made such an impact in all four years. As a freshman, get this as a freshman, she became just the second female ever in the track program to be crowned a New England Champion. Takach took the 1,600 meter run during the outdoor track season with an astonishing time of 5:03.3, following Bev Leuken who was NE Champ in 1983 and '84. Takach in the weeks prior to her NE title was second at the Class C Meet and fourth at the All-State Meet.

In the same school year, still as a freshman, Takach finished with a fifth place at the All-State Cross Country Meet, helping the team finish as the MVC Meet Champions and in second place at the State Class Meet. Also during her rookie campaign she held a 5:16.6 mark in outdoor track which was good for first place at the State Coach's Meet while breaking the Class C State record.

From 1994 to 1997 she helped the cross country team finish as Class C State Champions in 1995, as Class C runners-up in 1996 and '97, as all-state runners-up in '94 and '95 and as MVC Meet Champions all four seasons. Her sophomore season she did all of that while running with a separated shoulder.

She also finished first at the Bay State Invitational held at Franklin Park with a 19:19 time which would shatter the times of today. That performance helped the team finish in first place, also as a freshman.

During her track seasons, she held numerous amount of school and league records, including posting a 5:19.9 mark in the mile at the MVC Meet.

Wilmington High sub-varsity sports round-up

By LOUIE CIMAGLIA
Sports Correspondent

The Wilmington High JV Boys soccer team defeated Manchester-Essex, 7-1 on Monday to bring their record to 9-1-2.

"It was like two games, we were behind 1-0 at the half and I really challenged the guys at half time and they responded even better than I imagined," said coach Chip Bruce.

Chris Lavin led the way with three goals in the first 5:51 of the second half. He now is even with Andrew Goosens each having 10 goals. Jason Serino scored two and was a constant threat in the second half.

This past week the team played two very strong games. On the 12th they went to Ipswich.

"I was a little concerned," said Bruce. "All the other coaches told me that this team and Masco were by far the best JV teams they have seen. We beat them 5-0 and carried play from start to finish."

The play of the game was a goal scored by Andrew Goossens. The ball was served into the offensive box and Jason Serino and Nick Jannone both played the ball in a crowd. They were on the ground swinging away and they kept the ball alive long enough for Goosens to dart in and stick the bouncing ball in the net.

"Kenny Vassallo had his best game thus far he played smart and physical on both sides of the ball and he had an assist on a well delivered corner kick," said Bruce.

On Friday, Wilmington traveled to Rockport and despite playing on a wet, muddy field, the 'Cats came away with a 7-1 victory. Rockport's goal was the first given up the 'Cats in the past four games. Bruce said that Pat Schultz, Josh Himmell, Colin Wilson and Eric Parsons were all very solid along the back line. They, along with Dylan Reed, sweeper, and Nick Farnsworth, stopper, "make our opponents earn every inch of ground".

Goosens and Chris Lavin led the offense with two goals each.

Earlier the 'Cats posted tied with Lynnfield (0-0) and Pentucket (1-1). Against Pentucket, Chris Lavin scored a dramatic goal late in the game for the tie. The Cats also defeated Newburyport, 3-0, North Reading, 2-1, and North Andover 1-0.

"The boys really took to the turf (at North Andover) and played some great one-two soccer," said Bruce.

Nick Jannone scored the game's lone goal in traffic. Goalie Craig Bush played spectacular.

Earlier that week the Cats played a very strong game in the rain against Hamilton-Wenham and came out on top, 3-0. Goosens had two goals and Jason Serino had the third. Goosens has been on fire as of late, scoring four goals last week. His hardnosed style makes him a valuable asset all over the field.

Also, John Spurr has been improving his game and works both ends of the field well.

"I'm really happy with the whole team," said Bruce. "The defense is really starting to come together and they have been solid. We are generating plenty of offense but sometimes don't get the results we should. I would be more concerned if we weren't getting chances but we are."

JV Volleyball

The girls recently faced Belmont and Tewksbury. LeeJoan Villafuerte and Angela Maglione played very well for Wilmington in the two games. The week ended on high note in Friday's game against Melrose. The team played their best game to date and beat Melrose 2-0.

Although this was a true team effort, Theresa McMahon and Katelyn McFeeters played well defensively and offensively.

"As a coach, I was truly proud of my team's performance. They have learned so much this season and demonstrated that to everyone on Friday," said coach Tracy Kassin.

Also, the Lady Cats are getting strong efforts from team Captains Sarah Turner and Korrine Ghafari.

Freshmen Football

The Wildcats are 3-2 so far this year. One of those wins came two weeks ago against Newburyport. The Cats scored on the final play of the game and kicked the extra point with no time left.

Quarterback Steve Stewart had a great game, scoring the last touchdown and kicking the PAT. Also, Anthony Morlani scored in the game. On defense, Dan Molansen had an interception and played well. Anthony Nihan had a great game blocking out of the power-I formation.

The entire offensive line, consisting of Brian Williams, Dillon Halliday, Dan Molansen, Brad Jackson, Eric Lunt and Dave Russo, had a great game clearing holes and giving Stewart time to throw.

On the other side of the coin, the Wildcats lost a heartbreaker to North Reading, 13-7, on the last play of the game in which North Reading scored. Stewart scored the touchdown for Wilmington and got the PAT. Most likely, the team from North Reading was their JV squad.

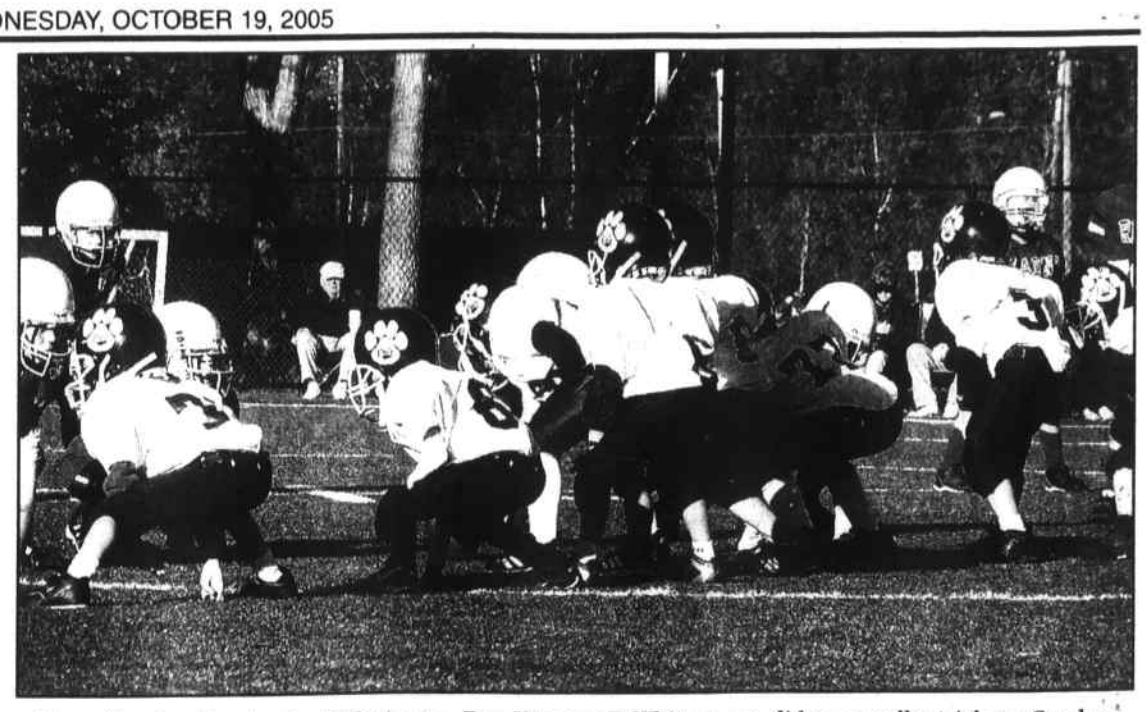

Freshmen Girls Soccer

The Lady Cats recently defeated North Andover and Billerica, 2-1 and 3-0, respectively.

Center midfielder Ally Lyman played really well during the two games. Also playing strong games were Lizzy Chin and Janelle Femino for Wilmington. Erin Conway played very well also minding the net. Also having strong performances were Jamie Gingrassi, Erica Baraldi and Devin Murphy, all who played well on offense and defense.

JV Football

The Wildcats beat a good Masconomet team, 18-8. The scoring came from all angles, starting with the opening kickoff when Antar George returned the ball about 75 yards for the score. Then Tom Barry continued the interception parade with his fourth of the year, which he returned for the score. Barry would eventually get his fifth pick of the year as well.

Pop Warner E White team picks up sixth win

The Wilmington E White Team defeated Reading, 26-6, on Sunday morning in Pop Warner play to win its their sixth game of the season.

The Wildcats jumped out to a 20- 0 lead in the first quarter and never looked back.

Wilmington's offense went right to work. The astounding blocking of Austin Holland, Robert Fullerton, and Alex Hiltz opened a gaping hole in the left side of the defense allowing James O'Regan to rush 35 yards for the Wildcats first score. Matt Penney ran the ball on a sweep right for the extra point conversion.

On the Rocket's first possession the ball was jarred loose and the Wildcat's Johnny Reynolds recovered the fumble deep in Wilmington's own territory. The Wildcat offense took the field and Matt Penney ran off right tackle for an 85-yard touchdown score. Impressive blocking from Jonathan Mack, Austin Ferreira, Nick Cimaglia and Joe Scurto opened up some nice running room for Penney. Dylan Masciello punched the ball into the end zone from the left side for the extra point conversion.

Johnny Galasso led the offense on a long scoring drive on the next possession. It started with a 10-yard pass from Galasso to receiver Robert Fullerton and ended on a run off left tackle by James O'Regan for a 25-yard touchdown.

Reading scored on their last possession of the half. This would be the only time the Rockets would reach the end zone.

The Wildcats continued to display their defensive prowess. On the first play of the second half, Ian Perkins broke through the offensive line and sacked the quarterback for a loss. This would set the tone for the remainder of the game.

The Rockets would put together some scoring attempts but the Wildcats were able to keep them out of the end zone each time. Chris Pennie, Chris Sartori, Matt Penney and Cody Wile, each with numerous tackles, led the Wildcat defense. Michael Carroccino, Peter Daly and Andrew Murray had key hits that were crucial in keeping the Rocket's offensive team from regaining momentum.

The only score in the second half came when the Wildcats put together a four play scoring drive capped by a Matt Penney 30-yard touchdown run up the middle. Playing well on the offensive line with some great blocks were Jacob Perkins and Charles Minghella.

The defense was relentless the entire second half. Playing tough and doing the job once again were Patrick Keough, Andrew Vellucci (fumble recovery) and Dante Marcoccio. Tommy Simmons, Billy Simmons, Darrin Cushing, and Michael Dancewicz jammed up the line of scrimmage making it nearly impossible for Reading to run up the middle.

The Wildcats had a great game causing multiple fumbles and holding Reading to one touchdown. Jeremy Frost, Brian Moran and Patrick Finn did an incredible job of tackling. Key defensive players Jack Stanford, Billy Falter and James Lawrenson all contributed with big plays to help with their 26-6 victory and sixth straight win.

The E White Team looks forward with excitement towards rapping up their season with two more games that will continue to encompass the qualities of hard work, effective effort and good sportsmanship.

Big week, big season for Ungvarsky

are playing in conditions like that then you have to play a low shot and drive the ball through the win," Ungvarsky said. "I just try to factor it in and hit the ball where you think the wind will take it. Sometimes it would take it a little further than I wanted it to, but it was not too bad."

On Tuesday, without the poor conditions, Ungvarsky was able to bring out the maximum potential in his game, and did he ever. The 68 was a personal best for the Hartford University bound senior. At one point during the back nine he sank six birdies in a row.

"Today everything just sort of clicked," Ungvarsky said. "I started off kind of slow, because it was wet and I could only get so much distance on my drives, but about halfway through it just started coming together."

A big reason for Ungvarsky's great day was the putting that had failed him the day before.

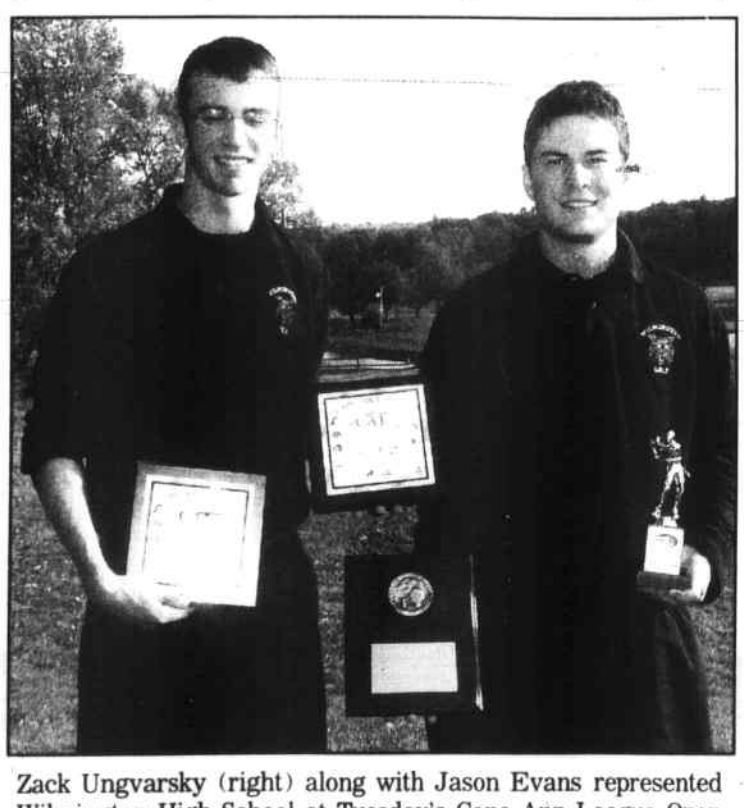

"The putting finally came together," Ungvarsky said. "I had a couple of four footers that I knocked in, but I also had a couple of 20 footers that don't normally go. Today, it was all just working."

The day was capped off when he received the CAL Player of the Year plaque, following in the great tradition of many Wilmington golfers before him including Kevin Velardo last season. The award is voted on by coaches throughout the CAL.

"It was awesome to receive that award. It was a very gratifying moment," Ungvarsky said. "It was one of the things I had been looking forward to all season. Wilmington has had a player win it for the last few years and I wanted to continue that. It was part of the reason I out so much effort into this season."

But the season is not over for Ungvarsky. The State Individual Tournament will be held in Pembroke next Monday and Ungvarsky plans on continuing the roll he is on now against the best the state has to offer.

"My goal is to win the state tournament," Ungvarsky said. "If I can do that I will feel like I have accomplished everything I wanted in my last year of high school golf. I will be happy with anything in the top three, but my goal is to win it."

Zack Ungvarsky (right) along with Jason Evans represented Wilmington High School at Tuesday's Cape Ann League Open held at Far Corner Golf Course. Ungvarsky shot a 4 under par and Evans finished with a 5th place with an 80.

Pee Wee II's score three more wins

The Wilmington Peewee II's scored three more victories over the past two weekends and suffered their second loss. They pulled out a 5 to 1 win over a tough Masco team.

After Chris Piscatelli put the cats ahead 1 to 0 in the first, the team exploded for three second period goals. Chris put in his second of the game which was followed with goals by Scott Layton and Brendan Munro. Jackie Mulrenan finished the scoring in the third. With an earlier start the next day in Methuen, the team picked up where it left off with an 8 to 0 victory.

Drew Cummings led the way with 2 goals and an assist, Jackie Mulrenan had two goals, Nick Pino, Tyler MacInnes, Trevor Foley and Mark Contrado each score a goal apiece. Brendan Munro and Scott Layton each had two assists in the victory. Nick Dirienzo played a strong game on the wing with some great hits. Nick Luise was steady between the pipes both games and recorded another shutout. Mike Ciampa. Chris Newton, Scott Layton and Frankie Cerbone were solid on defense in front of Nick.

The second weekend ended with a win and a loss. It looked like an easy game on Saturday when the team exploded for three goals in the first two minutes of the game against Melrose. Brendan Munro scored the first two and Chris Piscatelli added another. After the Melrose team to wake up, the scoring settled down and the team pulled out a tough 5 to 2 victory. Melrose put the pressure on and the game was in doubt until Drew Cummings scored to make it 4 to 2. Jackie Mulrenan finished the scoring off with a goal in the third.

The team came out a little flat for the second game of the weekend and spotted Cambridge a quick 2 to 0 lead. The team fought back to with two goals from Brendan Munro and one from Nick Pino to tie the score at three. Frankie Cerbone had the hit of the weekend when he flatten Cambridge's best player just inside the blue line. Cambridge was not rattled for long and scored the next goal which seemed to take all the wind out of the Cats sails. They struggled after that, giving up another goal followed by an empty net goal in the last few minutes for the final of 6 to 3.

The team played great over the two weekends with some good hockey to watch.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-up

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech girls soccer team seems to have mastered the art of the 1-1 tie this season. On Monday afternoon the Lady Rams hosted non-league rival Blackstone Valley and played to their fourth 1-1 deadlock of the season. It was also Shawsheen's third such game in their last five starts.

The tie brought the Lady Rams record on the season to 7-4-4.

Another familiar story for the Lady Rams in this one was that they out shot their opponents as they have in many of their games this season, but simply could not put the ball in the net enough times to earn the victory. Against Blackstone the shots on goal margin for the Lady Rams was 17-6, but they could not get that elusive second goal.

"They had a good goalie, you can't take that away from them," said Shawsheen coach Jack Viveiros. "We did everything but put it in the net. At one point we had three shots in a row but the goalie stopped every one of them."

The Lady Rams looked early on as if they might run away with a victory as they scored just 50 seconds into the game on a goal by freshman Stephanie Warnick of Tewksbury. It was Warnick's 8th goal of the season.

"It should have been over in the first have," Viveiros said. "But we're not that type of team. We have a hard time finishing."

As usual for the Rams, the continued to get strong defensive efforts from many players with Caitlin Gallagher and Katie Giordano leading the way in front of goalie Kim Stockton of Wilmington.

But despite their strong efforts, they could not prevent Blackstone from scoring the tying goal with 15 minutes left in the game.

"It is getting old for us," Viveiros said of the low scoring ties. "We are 7-4-4 at this point, but we feel like we could have won at least a couple of the ties. We have been playing close games all year. There have been no blowouts either way."

With the tie the Lady Rams clinched a spot in the state tournament and also remained very much in the hunt for a spot in the state vocational tournament.

They have a 6-3 record against vocational school opponents, not counting the ties which cancel each other out.

"The voke tournament is a strong possibility," Viveiros said. "We have more voke wins than Blackstone, but I don't know about some others like Monty Tech Assabet and Blue Hills. Grater Lowell is undefeated so obviously they have one of the spots."

Monday was supposed to have marked the end of the regular season for the Lady Rams, but due to several rainouts including last Saturday's Homecoming matchup against Parker, Shawsheen still has three games.

They will travel to Northeast on Wednesday and Lynn Tech on Friday, and wrap up their season at home against Parker next Friday.

"We would have gone into the tournament with a very long layoff," Viveiros said. "So in this case at least, the rainouts kind of work to our advantage."

Boys Soccer

The Shawsheen boys soccer team also played to a 1-1 tie in their last game. In Saturday morning's Homecoming game against Lowell Catholic the Rams and Crusaders battled through the rain and the mud to their deadlock.

On most days the game would not have even been played, but with Homecoming festivities planned for the day, as well as a forecast that predicted the rain would be stopping sometime in the middle of the morning, the 9:00 a.m. start went off as planned.

"Due to Homecoming we made a school decision that we did not want to cancel," Shawsheen coach Dick Barris said. "We felt that if the football game was going to be played later in the day then we should play the soccer game."

Of course with the weather worsening throughout the day the football game scheduled for later in the day was eventually canceled at the request of the game officials, but the Rams did not know this when they took the field in their non-league clash.

"It was difficult at best," Barris said. "There were certain areas with puddles that we could just not play through. But it was the same for both teams. I was actually surprised at how well the field held up."

When the game did get underway the Rams took the lead in the 22nd minute on a goal by freshman Calvin McMillan of Tewksbury on an assist from Brian Conway. It was McMillan's third goal of the season, continuing a very impressive freshman campaign.

On the goal, the Lowell Catholic goalie came out of the net to the corner to challenge Conway and Conway hit the ball back to McMillan near the sideline. McMillan put the ball in the net from a very tough angle without the benefit of any running start.

"He's a freshman who will be a very good player for us," Barris said. "I have been very pleased and very proud of his performance regardless of that goal. He and Eric are playing about 30 minutes per half and doing a great job."

Tewksbury's Rich Fantasia made 14 saves to earn the tie, allowing his lonely goal when he was drawn out of the net to help a defender and was taken down by a Lowell Catholic forward leaving an open net.

"Rich had a very good game," Barris said. "On one shot in particular in the first half he made a great kick save to keep us in the lead at the half."

Lowell Catholic's goal came with 18 minutes left to play.

Another reason the Rams made every effort to get the game in is that they have a full slate of games scheduled for this week, at least partially due to previous rainouts.

After traveling to Whittier on Tuesday the Rams were scheduled to host games three days in a row. North Shore comes to Shawsheen on Wednesday, followed by Tyngsboro on Thursday and Greater Lawrence on Friday.

It is a big week for Rams in terms of their tournament hopes.

"It would be nice to get three of four or four of four and we will definitely be tournament bound," Barris said. "On the other hand, if we were to lose three out of four we could be in trouble."

Golf

The Shawsheen golf team has posted a 5-1 record so far this season an look to be in good position to earn at least a share of the CAC title.

Last week the Rams pulled off their most impressive victory of the season, a 6-3 victory at Tyngsboro to avenge their only loss of the season. The Rams were led by Brandon Porter an DJ Shepherd, who each shot a match best 39.

"That was just a great win for us," Shawsheen coach Tom Struthers said. "It was the only team we had lost to so playing them on their home course was a little nerve racking. Coming through with a win was very good for our boys."

Porter's performance was typical of many of the efforts he has turned in this season.

"Brandon is just an awesome player," Struthers said. "He brings out the best in the whole team. He was down two shots during his round and came back to win on the last hole with a 20 foot birdie across a green filled with pine needles and leaves."

Most recently the Rams competed in the Division 3 North Sectional on Monday afternoon at Beverly Golf and Tennis Club. It was not a great day for the Rams, as they were playing in poor weather conditions on a course they had never even practiced on before.

Porter had the low score for the Rams with a 91.

"The kids just had a bad day," Struthers said. "A lot of other teams had played there before and a lot of other players are members there. I think next year things will go a lot better for us there."

Prior to that the Rams had a much better day in the CAC Tournament on Friday at Hickory Hill. The Rams finished near the top of the final standings and were led by Porter's 38 for the nine hole tournament.

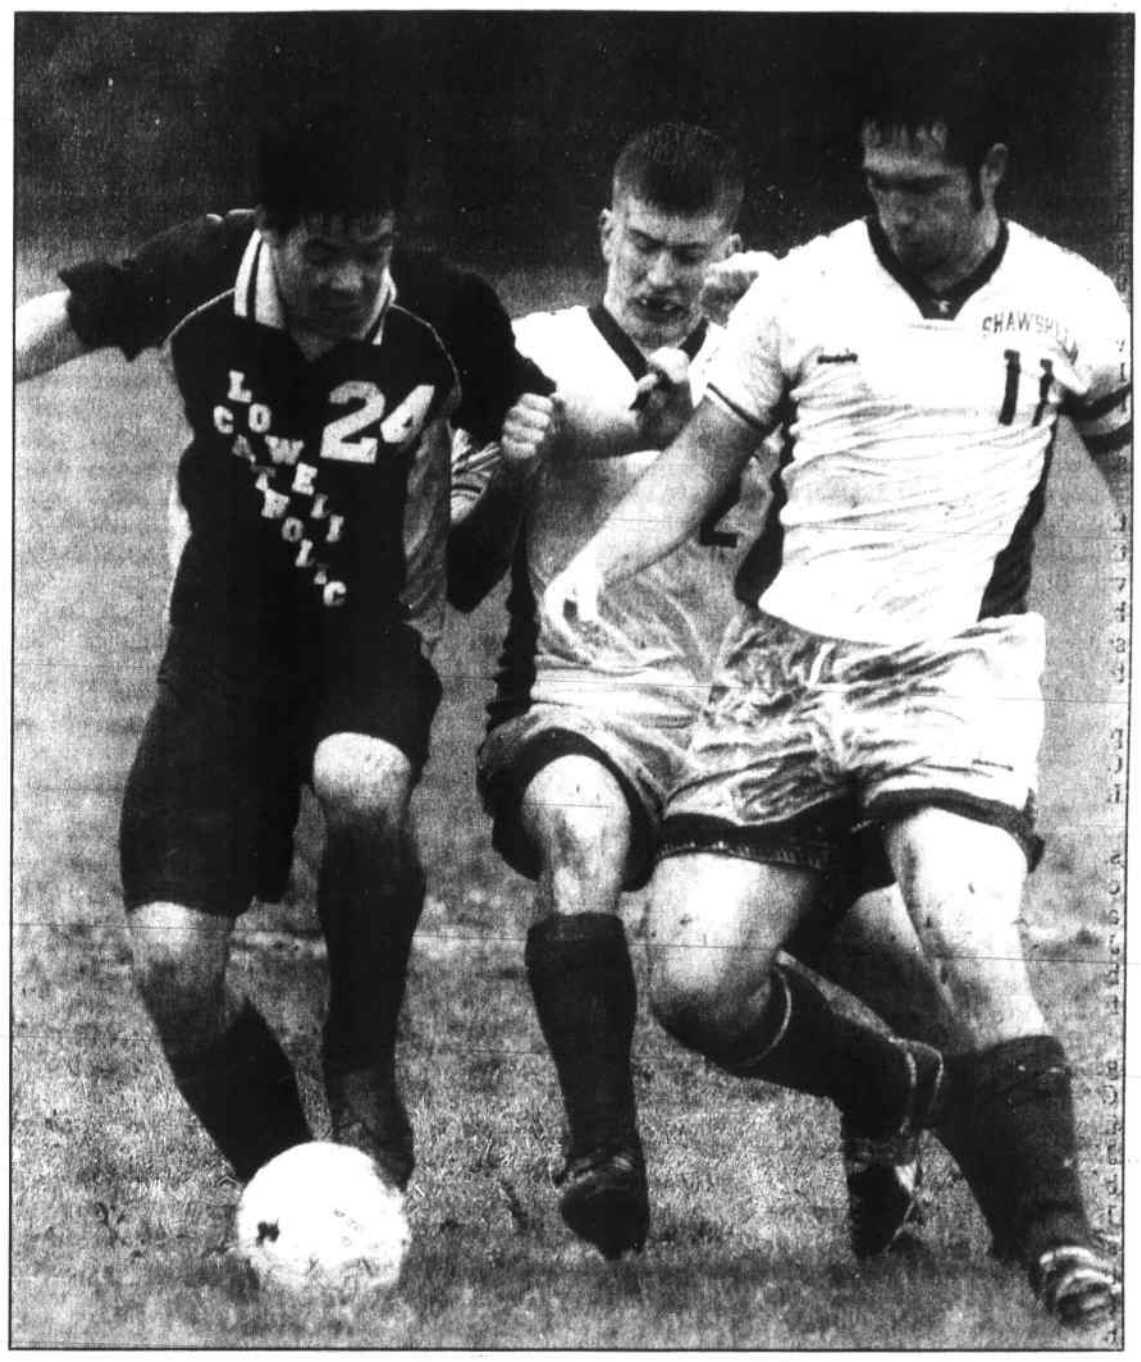

"It went very well for us. That was the worst weather of all, with rain and everything," Struthers said. "Brandon's score was incredible considering the weather. It was great for Hickory Hill to sponsor us there."

Possibly the most fun of this past week was the Rams Cup Invitational at Indian Ridge last Thursday. It was a tournament just for the Rams players. Once again the weather was not great, but it could hardly dampen the spirits of Struthers or his players,

The even was sponsored by Shawsheen superintendent Charles Lyons and Struthers and his players were very grateful for the opportunity to play at Indian Ridge.

"It was really great. The kids got to meet the superintendent of the school which was very nice," Struthers said. "A lot of times the golf team does not get recognized a lot, but having him out there meant a lot to the kids. It was a great day."

The Rams were set to host Minuteman on Monday and Northeast on Wednesday this week. If they win both, they are assured of no worse than a tie for the league crown with Tyngsboro. Tyngsboro will take on Minuteman on Wednesday.

The Shawsheen Tech boys soccer team played its homecoming game on Saturday morning despite the terrible weather conditions.

Football team improves to 5-1

Marzeoti comes up big as Rams defeat North Shore

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA – The Shawsheen Tech football team was primed and ready to go in their regularly scheduled Homecoming game against North Shore Regional on Saturday afternoon. So primed and ready in fact, that when the game was canceled at the last minute, the Rams coaching staff had some concerns as to whether their team could get themselves back up less than 24 hours later.

The Rams alleviated any of those concerns on Sunday afternoon at Samuel J. Cassidy Field, dominating from start to finish in a 36-14 win over North Shore in a CAC cross-division clash, improving their record to 5-1 on the season. North Shore, the champions of the CAC Lower Division last season, dropped to 3-3 on the season.

"We were a little worried after yesterday because the kids were all pumped to play," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "But they responded with a victory and I thought we put together as close to a complete game as we have played all year."

The most complete game of all was turned in by senior running back Kyle Marzeoti who scored four touchdowns, three of them rushing and the fourth on a 45 yard kickoff return after North Shore had attempted an onside kick. Marzeoti rushed for 227 yards on the day, raising his season total to 846, and his four touchdowns brought his season total to 13.

The Rams led just 8-7 at the end of the first quarter, but extended their lead to 24-7 by halftime and blew the game open in the second half. It was a far cry from last year's contest, which the Rams did not secure until a last second interception.

"We could never have anticipated this," Costabile said. "North Shore is a very good team and they always give us a good game."

Marzeoti got the Rams rolling on their first play from scrimmage, with a 55 yard run to give Shawsheen a first and goal at the North Shore eight yard line. Three plays later Marzeoti scored his first touchdown of the game on a two yard sweep to the left and the Rams led 8-0 just two minutes into the game after he hauled in the two point conversion pass from sophomore quarterback Joe Gore of Wilmington.

North Shore came right back with a very impressive drive. Starting at their own 30 yard line, the Bulldogs marched 70 yards on 13 plays to get on the board. The touchdown came on a 21 yard pass from wide receiver Zach Thompson to fellow wide receiver Moses Jimenez. Quarterback Colby Boulay tossed a pass about five yards behind the line of scrimmage to Thompson, who quickly fired a strike to a wide open Jimenez in the end zone to make the score 8-7 after the first of two Josh Heath extra points on the day.

After a Shawsheen fumble on their next possession, it looked like North Shore was driving toward a score, as they marched into Ram territory. But this time it was Shawsheen who forced a fumble with defensive tackle and co-captain Rich Doane recovering on the Shawsheen 40 yard line.

From there it took just one play for Marzeoti to capitalize as he broke free down the right sideline and then cut across the field at about the 20 yard line and raced into the end zone for a 60 yard touchdown run and a 16-7 lead with 3:46 left in the half after he ran in the conversion.

The Rams forced three turnovers in the game, and the second of those led to their third touchdown. Defensive end Tom Mullan recovered a North Shore fumble at the Rams 42 yard line and three plays later Marzeoti capped off a spectacular first half with an 11 yard sweep to the left with 1:05 left for his third touchdown and followed with another two point conversion rush for the 24-7 lead.

Marzeoti had 11 carries for 196 yards in the first half alone.

"We talked to Kyle before the game and told him that big time players step up in big games," Costabile said. "And he came up huge."

The opportunistic Shawsheen defense continued to come through in the second half, with a pair of defensive backs combining for a big interception. Brandon McCarthy deflected a Boulay pass and fellow defensive back Steve Foley of Tewksbury hauled in the tip and a did a great job of keeping his feet in bounds to give the Rams a first down at the Bulldog 19 yard line, earning himself a celebratory head butt from Costabile.

The Rams needed just three plays to add to their lead with sophomore Pat Fullerton doing the honors, scoring on a seven yard run. The last yard of the run was the most impressive as Fullerton barreled right through a North Shore defender at the goal line to make the lead 30-7 with 3:33 left in the third quarter.

North Shore did not quit, putting together a nice drive in the fourth quarter and capping it with a 14 yard quarterback draw by Boulay to pull within 30-14 with 7:08 left in the game.

But Marzeoti made sure that the Homecoming crowd would go home happy, picking up the ensuing onside kick and racing untouched into the end zone for a 36-14 lead.

"This was just a great team effort and some great old fashioned football," Costabile said. "We had great blocking, great tackling and we made plays on both sides of the ball. It was a very impressive victory."

This Saturday, the Rams travel to Lynn Tech for a 10:30 am kickoff. Last season the Rams downed the Tigers by a score of 40-14 at Cassidy Field with Marzeoti scoring a pair of touchdowns and rushing for 167 yards.

The Shawsheen Tech Rams football team's running attack has helped the team get off to a 5-1 start including a win over North Shore on Sunday afternoon.

Raiders score 34 points in win over Chiefs

Senior Division:
Raiders 34 vs. Chiefs 0:

The last time these two teams met, the game went into overtime, with the Raiders scoring the only points of the day. On Sunday, it was a different game, and the Chiefs dropped a tough one, 34-0.

There were some bright spots for the Chiefs on this windy, gloomy day. On offense there were several occasions when Rob Wallace gained significant yardage The same was true of Nick LaCascia, who's had a terrific year running the ball. And, although the passing game was limited by the strong winds (and by the opponent), quarterback Mike ludka performed well in all that he was asked to do. Of course, no ffense was possible with out the blocking of the stout hearted "trench guys" in the line, namely: J.C. Foster, Paul Coffey, Ethan Culwell, Matt Johnson, Dan Reardon, Jack Kern, and Patrick Bernardo. These guys have performed with great determination all season.

There were several occasions when the Chiefs forced the Raiders into 3 (of 4) downs and then out. On a sequence near the end of the first half, key tackles were made by Dan Reardon (who has played hard all year), David Medina, J.C. Foster, Zach Young, and Mike Ludka. In another important series in the second half, the Chiefs stopped the Raiders on downs with tackles by Dan Mugford, Brandon Hanifin, and Brad Tosto.

It should be noted that on one of the kick offs by the Raiders to the Chiefs in the second half, Brad Tosto–pound for pound the toughest player in the Senior League–used a technically perfect peel back block that leveled the opposing player to help spring Nick LaCascia for a decent gain. Both the blocker and the blocked bounced up OK.

This loss puts the Chiefs' record at 2-3, which is good for third in the standings. Expectations are that this team will rebound from this set back and use this as a learning experience for the game next time.

The Raiders played the Chiefs in their second meeting of the season on Sunday and they made sure this time the game did not go into overtime as did their previous encounter.

The Raiders put points on the board the first time they touched the ball. Anthony Arcari received the opening kick-off and after cutting off a key Dave Gallotto block, Arcari outran the Chiefs defenders up the right sideline for a 75-yard touchdown. Manny Cabral added the extra point on a dive and just like that the Raiders jumped out 7-0. The Chiefs were unable to sustain a drive and on 4th down they tried to punt, but Mike Amaral crashed through the Chiefs frontline and blocked the punt, as Paul Moriarty pounced on the ball for the Raiders.

On their first possession the Raiders moved the ball well and on 1st down and goal from the 10 yard line, Anthony Arcari scored once again on a nifty quick pitch to the left and raced into the end zone. Arcari added the extra point on an off-tackle run and after 6 minutes into the game, it was already Raiders on top 14-0.

The Chiefs began their drive and picked up a first down, but on the very next play at midfield, Bobby Greenwood darted in front of a Chiefs receiver and made a spectacular interception and returned the ball all the way for a 50 yard touchdown. Unfortunately for the Raiders the play was called back on a blocking penalty.

The Raiders defense stepped it up a notch in the 2nd quarter. On the Chiefs next series of plays they tried several sweeps, but Mike Amaral once again was a force on defense, breaking through into the Chiefs backfield and smothering their running backs as they were receiving their handoffs for big losses. Also on a Chiefs 3rd down and long, defensive end Joe Pondelli, busted through on the outside and recorded a nice QB sack and a 12 yards loss on the play. The teams traded series of downs but to no avail and the half ended 14-0 Raiders.

The second half started the way the first half ended as the Raiders dominated on both sides of the ball. Pat Taylor blitzed through and forced a fumble, which was recovered by Roby Reitano at the Chiefs 45 yard line. The Raiders offense drove forward on several key runs by Mike Pino, Ryan Vibber and Sean McCarthy. On 1st down at the Chiefs 14 yard line, David Gallotto hit Craig Semenza on a down and out as Semenza stretched out and dove to the sidelines to make a pretty 12 yard reception. On the next play David Gallotto ran a QB sneak up the middle from the two yard line for the Raiders 3rd score and Sean McCarthy added the extra point with a dive of his own for his first score of the season. It was now Raiders 21, Chiefs 0.

In the quarter, several notable outstanding plays from the Raiders cornerbacks were delivered by Craig Semenza coming up strong and stopping the Chiefs on 4th down and 8 yards and also from Rich Green who stayed home on a Chiefs end around reverse and forcing a 10 yard loss in the Chiefs backfield. Both Semenza and Green played their best games of the year.

The Chiefs were forced to punt at the start of the 4th qtr as Mike Pino back to receive scooped up the ball on the right side and followed a wall of Raiders blockers up the left sideline as he broke several tackles and sprinted 70 yards for a great TD. The points were denied and the Raiders led 27-0.

The Raiders didn't stop there as Sean Hannon made a nice interception at the 50 yard line and after 1st down runs by fullback Sean McCarthy, running back Sam Weitz raced off-tackle 18 yards for his 1st TD. Ryan Woolaver punched in the extra point to close the scoring for the afternoon.

The Raiders overall team effort highlighted their win and proved big as they walked away with a 34-0 victory over the Chiefs.

Raiders offense was led by Mike Pino, Sean McCarthy, Ryan Vibber, Sam Weitz, Manny Cabral, Mike Ryan and Craig Semenza.

Raiders defensive standouts were David Gallotto, Mike Amaral, Rich Green, Roby Reitano, Anthony Arcari, Paul Moriarty, Rob Bradley, Joe Pondelli and Pat Taylor. The Raiders who recorded their 3rd shutout of the season have only allowed 31 opponents' points.

The Raiders now with a 3-2 record play their final game of the regular season next week against the Titans.

Giants 17 vs. Titans 2:

The weekend's matchup was the Titans against the undefeated Giants. Titans came into this game fired up and played hard throughout the game. They came out driving the ball showing a running duo of Matt Luppi and Sean McCormick who were both running hard consistently showing an outside game with McCormick and a power Game with Luppi. Even with this strong play and efficient offense the Titans struggled to punch the ball in getting to the red zone three times only to walk away scoreless.

Defensively, the Titans played tough with strong play from Colin Foley, Tom Dennehy, Stefan Herceg and John Tomasi who had an exceptional day as it seemed his head was always to the football. The only score of the game for the Titans came in the third quarter as they had the Giants backed up at their own goal line as Tomasi and Dan Gentile combined for a sack to score a safety. The Titans are demonstrating their potential and continue to improve as they now regroup and prepare to face the Giants again next Saturday.

The Giants improved to 5-0 with a 19-2 victory. The Giants opened the scoring early as Matt Rowe, John McCarthy and Chris Legerstrom shredded the defense with nice runs. A 15 yard pass from Sean Connolly to Chris Santos put the Giants up 6-0. A good defensive stand lead by James Francois and Dante Sabatino gave the Giants good field position. Matt Rowe ripped off a 15 yard touchdown run, stiff arming his way to paydirt. Connolly pass to Dan Sugrue for the 1 point conversion.

Another 15-yard touchdown run by Rowe sealed the 19-2 win.

The Giants take on the Chiefs for the regular season finally on Thursday (rainout game), and open the playoffs next Sunday.

Intermediate Division:
Apache 26 Sioux 13

The Apache are improving week after week. Everyone has stepped up their game. Evan Conway and Kevin Saunders both had TD'S in the game. Brad Gahagan also had a great game as always. He was determined to control the team in the quarterback position. Where's the beef? The front line of Brandon and Brendan O'Keefe, Chris Blake, Damian Sabatino, and Derek Sabbag, had an awesome game! The score was tied 13-13 when Derek Sabbag stripped the ball and recovered the fumble on the Apache 3 yard line. The front line wouldn't be denied. They are a strong force.

Zack Dirocco caught a great pass by Brad Gahagan for a touchdown. My hat goes out to "Boomer" Glavin for his hard work on the playing field and his positive attitude. Alec Difruscia and Mike Mugo played very solid football as always. Damian Sabatino Did a great job at the center position. Shaun Wackcrow did a great job on defense making numerous tackles. He also had a nice run for fourteen yards on offense. Joey Kaz, Timmy Martel, Matt Hoffman, and Philip Jones had great games as well. Keith Bradley had a very nice tackle on a punt return by the Sioux. Austin Chinal had a great game playing in at linebacker. Cory Lucia and David Woodworth played tough all game as well as Cam Cathcart.

John Koytila took a shot right to his ribs. He was taken out of the game and went to the hospital. He has a very big bruise, but he should be fine.

This was a total team effort. No player single handedly won this game for us. The Apache are playing some great football. The coaching staff of Paul Sabbag, Doc Dirocco, and Todd Dirocco did a fantastic job in the absence of head coach Paul O'Keefe. Keep up the good work. Great job Apache!!!!

The Sioux squared off against the Apache with identical records battling for sole possession of second place in the league. The Sioux offense put up 6 points in three plays on a sixty yard drive on their first series as QB Frankie McLaughlin handed the ball to Allyn Hood for 8 yards, Daniel Altavesta 5 yards and Dean Alves break away 47 yard TD run. Point after failed.

Credit goes to the hole opening of the offensive line of center Kurt Chandler, tackles Luis Ferrer and Joe Penta, guards Chris London and Jaylin Sparks and ends Matt Greenwood and Cory Cataldo. The Apache came roaring back with 6 points.

The Sioux offense rose to the task again mounting a 7-play 60-yard drive with Danny Altavesta pounding it in for 6. The point after was good as Dean Alves hauled in the pass.The Apache offense again came back tying up the score 13-13 with 3 minutes left in the half. It looked like the Sioux were going to score just before the half from the Apache 7 but a fumble killed the drive.

The second half the Apache offense put up 13 points awhile the Sioux offense sputtered as the Apache defense stiffen and disrupted the Sioux backfield. Defensively Ryan Anzuoni, Devin Summiel, Tyler Green, Micheal Weitz and Ryan Bradley had solid pad popping hits stopping key Apache drives. It was a hard fought battle as the teams gave it all. Welcome back Grant Darveau who returned from his injury this week to help out at cornerback. Thanks to the Cheerleaders as they cheer the team on.

Apache 25
vs. Tyngsboro White 19:

An exciting game witnessed by all on hand on a cold, raw, windy day saw the undermanned Navajo hang on for thrilling win. The Navajo lead throughout the day jumping out to a quick 19-0 lead in the 1st quarter thanks an impressive Joey Tower TD run of 15 yards and 2 TD's by Chris Battano runs of 30, and 5 yards. Battano would score again late in the 3rd quarter on a 34 yard run and Tower would add with an interception in the 2nd quarter.

Quarterbacks Timmy Sughrue and Mr. Versatile Kevin Kirkland did great jobs running the offense and new kicker Danny Lamarca had 2 impressive kicks. The starting line was very good allowing Mike Doucette to pick up a few nice gains up the middle. Doug McMenimen and Ryan Eartherton were impressive up front on both the offensive and defensive lines all day. Other offensive line Navajo standouts were Josh Fallon, Joe Velozo, Scott Thurlow and Don Gorski. Backup running back Matt Kando had runs for hard earned gains.

Tight ends Anthony and Nicolas Cocca did a great job and saw a ton of action all day. Defensive standouts for the Navajo were Will Ramsdell, Tommy Gill, Josh Fallon and Matt Donovan (who rushed home from a weekend hockey tournament in Albany NY). Scott Thurlow added two impressive interceptions and Chris Battano and Ryan Eatherton came up with big sacks apiece. Doug McMenimen led the Navajo defensive charge with big tackles all day and Mike Doucette had a batted ball in the defensive backfield.

Thanks to the twelfth man on the field, the Navajo cheerleaders, who were the class act of the day. You guys were unbelievably loud today, nice job ladies. Next week the Navajo face the defending league champion Apache for the regular season finale.

Cherokee 18
vs. Tyngsboro Red 0:

Ian Flynn had two touchdowns one rushing (10 yards) and a punt return for TD (40 yards). Sean Foley added the final TD, his first of the year, with a 75 yard run. The day was lead by a suffocating defense pitching it's first shut out. The defensive squad was lead by Foley leading all tacklers with 10. Other standouts were Christian Taylor, John Dausch, and Kyle Pandolph with 6 each. Matt Brady, Zach Jacobs, and Flynn added with 5 tackles apiece.

Junior Division:
Wamesit 8
vs. Tyngsboro White 0:

After two rainouts, the sky finally cleared and the Wamesit were able to make their second trip to Tyngsboro, this time to face the White squad. In a turnover filled game the Wamesit were able to come away with an 8-0 victory and clinch first place in the Junior Division with its 5-0 record.

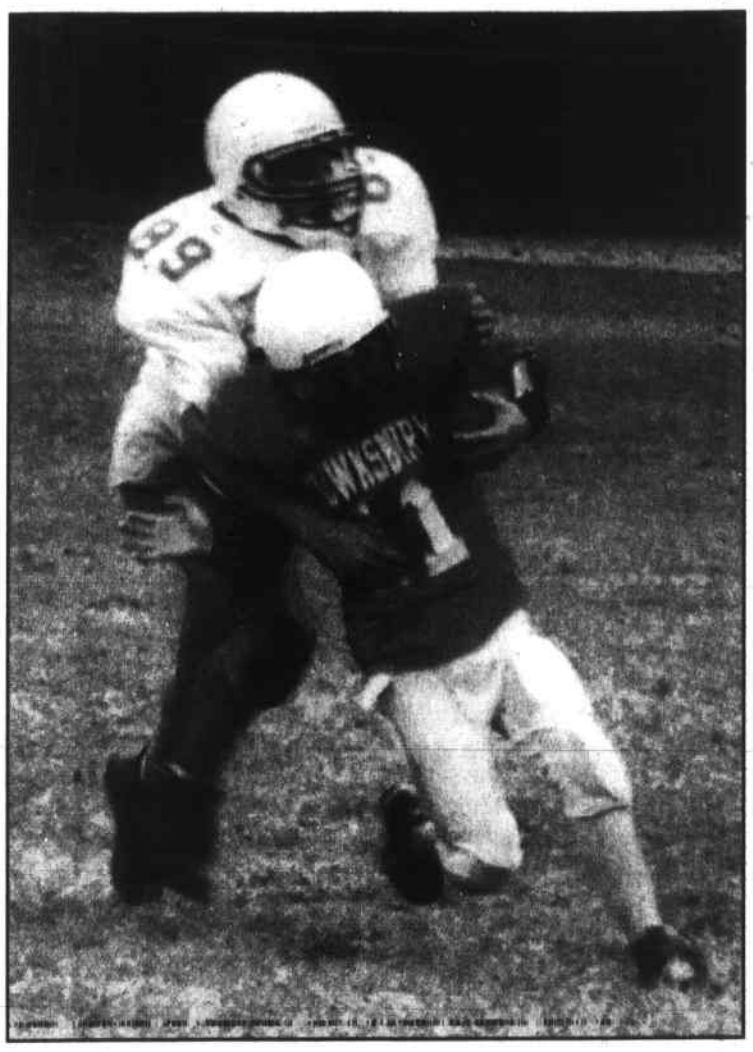

The defense truly was outstanding. Not only did it pitch its 3rd shutout of the year, but they also accounted for all 8 points in the contest. This unit has been phenomenal all year, consistently making plays in the opposition's backfield. The unit is led by the relentless line play of Jonathan Zervas, Brandon Kelley, James Sullivan, Nicholas Harvey, Brett Morris, Chris Manory, Ed Duffy, Tyler Abele, Brendan Bednarek and Murilo Moreira with the linebacking corps of John Aylward, Dominic Rosado, and Anthony Payne firing in the gaps.

Credit also has to be given to the play of the corner backs Jayson Walden, Ryan Carey and Evan Saunders as well as safeties Ryan Bednarek and Troy Carey.

After what seemed to be a costly turnover inside the Tyngsboro 2 yard line, the Wamesit defense came through when Nicholas Harvey recovered a fumble in the end zone for the game's first score. The scoring was capped off in the fourth quarter when John Zervas took down both his blocker and the Tyngsboro ball carrier in the end zone for a safety.

The offense was not able to score this week but they played well moving the ball against a tough defense by relying on the blocking of Cameron Gahagan, Vinny Iannacci, Chan Jay Lay, Alex Menard, Robert Papandrea, Nicholas Salvato, and Blake Schumaker. Also, Zach Strahan and Steven Hamel deserve credit for some nifty moves carrying the ball.

The Wamesit players and coaches would like to thank their fans and cheerleaders for making the trip to support the team. Special thanks goes to the Wamesit cheerleaders and coaches for helping to keep Coach Mike Sitar entertained on the bus ride home.

Sean Connolly of the Giants is tackled by Matthew Luppi of the Titans during a Tewksbury Senior League Football game played on Sunday.

Mohawk 12 vs. Comanche 0:

The Comanche took on a tough Mohawk team and came up short after nearly a 2-week hiatus due to the weather. Due to tough field position, the Comanche were unable to sustain an offensive drive that would allow them to get onto the scoreboard.

Outstanding defensive players for the Comanche were Ryan Briggs, Jared Roane, Jackson Roane, Andrew Carmen, Andrew Valdina and Sam Canelas. Each of these players contributed a tackle and helped to stop the Mohawks from keeping the Comanche out of the game. Other defensive standouts were Kevin Dick, providing multiple tackles, with one early on in the game setting the tone for the Comanche defense, Blake Hery and Tim Donovan, both whom contained the Mohawk sweep throughout the game on both sides of the field. Providing consistent pressure on the quarterback was Matt Lacascia and Jon DeVito.

Other defensive players providing key tackles throughout the game were Sean Brady, Tony Simmons, and Max Brown. Nick Fiore played well on both sides of the ball after coming off an early season ankle injury.

On a sunny day and two weeks in waiting, the Comanche and Mohawk teams were able to complete a competitive defensive battle. Derek Kawalski contributed with some key tackles and a fumble recovery. Chris Sassin, Andrew Langone, Sean Derrah and Chris Nardone provided strong support up the middle which allowed the Mohawks to record its first shutout.

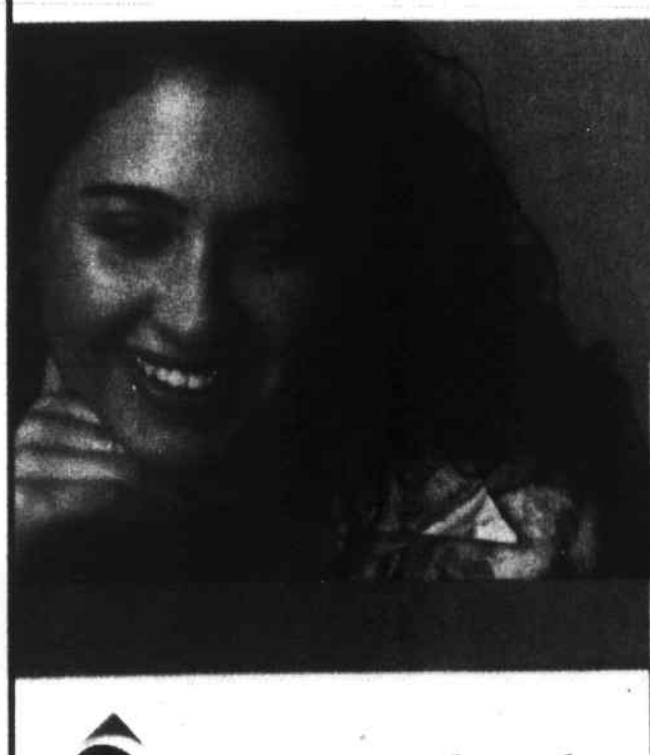

The Mohawk offense struggled for their two touchdowns. Connor Sullivan contributed with a rushing and a passing touchdown. Justin Derrah performed well at center despite a banged up hand. Also having a great game on offense were Brendon O'Connor, Devin Bere, and Rory Foley.

Though playing on a temporary field with no yardage lines and only one referee, the Mohawk coaches and players would like to thank Brian Dick and his coaches for their patience and sportsmanship. We all made the best of a tough situation due to the bad weather.

Tyngsboro Red 14, Cheyenne 0

Tyngsboro held Tewksbury to a scoreless game. But the Cheyenne had multiple stand outs on defense Alex Dirocco who from behind saved a TD by Tyngsboro. Andrew Rogers and Peter Brekalis had multiple tackles. Other defensive stand outs were Justin Whitehouse, Joseph LaLonde, Nicholas Pellegrini, Daniel McCrevan, and Matthew Cocca.

By PAUL FEELY

If Halloween were a state, Salem, Massachusetts would definitely be the capital. Nobody celebrates Halloween quite like this city, and there are numerous activities this month for locals and tourists alike.

Whether you are seeking the changing leaves and cooler weather New England Autumn brings or the ghosts and goblins that Halloween is known for, you will find it all in this seaside community this month.

Salem Haunted Happenings 2005 began on October 6th and will continue through October 31st with events that could keep you entertained for the entire month! All the events and attractions can be found in historic downtown Salem, which makes it easy for you to walk from one place to the next. Bring your walking shoes and experience as much of Salem as possible during America's Halloween Festival.

The museums, attractions, haunted houses and tours extend their operating hours during the month of October so you can take in even more of the sites in Salem. The streets will be bustling with merchants, dramatic productions, psychic fairs and games. Haunted Happenings caters to revelers of all ages and interests and everyone will find something to stay entertained.

Salem is just 16 miles north of Boston on the Atlantic coast. Salem is easily accessible by car, train, and bus. Salem is just five (5) stops on the MBTA from North Station in Boston! View Map of Salem

Traffic to Salem is expected to be significant during the month of October, particularly on weekends. Generally, motorists travel to Salem via Route 114 East.

From Route 128-North: Take exit 25A and follow Route 114-East into Salem. Once in Salem, follow signs to the Salem Visitor Center, Museum & Historic Sites and Downtown Parking. Please note: I-95 North and Route 128-North share the same road for the loop around Boston. When the roads divide, stay on Route 128-North. At this point, the exit numbers jump from #45 to #28.

Although 114-East is the most accessible route into Salem, you may want to seek alternative routes that receive less traffic during Haunted Happenings. Several suggestions of alternative routes from route 128 include: taking exit 26 to Lowell St. in Peabody, or taking exit 24 to Endicott St. in Danvers.

The Salem Witch Museum

"She afflicts me! She comes to me at night and torments me! She's a witch!"

Words such as these struck terror into the hearts of Salem townspeople in the early spring of 1692 as hysterical young girls called out names.

By summer, hundreds had been accused and imprisoned - defenseless against accusations of witchcraft in a society driven by superstition and fear. The court, formed to try the victims, acted quickly. Bridget Bishop was tried on June 2 and hanged on June 10 thereby setting the precedent for a summer of executions.

The Salem Witch Museum brings you there, back to Salem 1692. Visitors are given a dramatic history lesson using stage sets with life-size figures, lighting and a narration - an overview of the Witch-Trials of 1692.

A new exhibit, Witches: Evolving Perceptions, examines the stereotypical witch, aspects of witchcraft in the 17th century, modern witchcraft and the phenomenon of witch hunts.

The House of the Seven Gables is Salem's premiere historic site, located on the Harbor. Discover 330 years of Salem's history as you experience this museum and collection of historic buildings.

When you arrive at The House of the Seven Gables - which constitutes its own national historic district on The National Register of Historic places - costumed interpreters warmly greet you for an unforgettable historical experience. Outside, spectacular seaside gardens await you. Inside of The House of the Seven Gables, also known as the Turner-Ingersoll Mansion, you will discover a mysterious secret staircase where you least expect it. Built in 1668, this is the oldest surviving 17th century wooden mansion in New England. The House of the Seven Gables inspired author Nathaniel Hawthorne to write his legendary novel of the same name.

As a matter of fact, the very home where Hawthorne was born, was moved to The House of the Seven Gables and now lies just feet away from the mysterious mansion made famous in fiction. When you step into the Nathaniel Hawthorne House (c.1750), you will learn about the life of the famous author.

But there's more. The House of the Seven Gables also has an 18th century granite sea wall, and two seaside Colonial Revival Gardens. The museum houses more than 2,000 artifacts and objects, more than 40 framed works, 500 photographs and glass plate negatives, and more than 650 volumes in our research and rare book library.

The Salem Trolley Tour

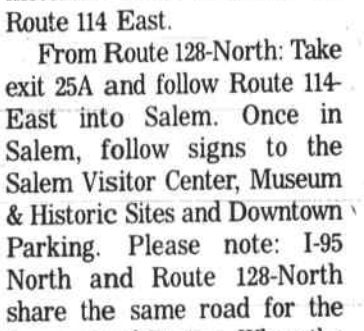

The Salem Trolley provides visitors with a narrated one hour tour and all day shuttle service throughout beautiful and historic Salem. Travel beyond the mythology of the witchcraft hysteria into the fascinating realm of Salem's literary and maritime history. Since your tickets are good all day, participants may disembark at any of the tour's twelve stops.

Movie Reviews

"THE FOG" AN OLD FASHIONED GHOST STORY

MOVIE:
"THE FOG"
GRADE: **

The main villain in 'The Fog', a malicious white mist, looks pretty cheesy, as do the zombie-like mariners who inhabit it in their century-old quest for revenge.

And the script from Cooper Layne contains your typical horror-flick lines that overstate the obvious, like, "That guy gives me the creeps," in response to seeing an obviously creepy fisherman, and, "Nick, ever since I came home, horrible things have been happening." You need something to laugh at before you get scared again.

But director Rupert Wainwright - whose previous movies include "Stigmata" starring Patricia Arquette and "Please Hammer, Don't Hurt 'Em: The Movie" starring M.C. Hammer - manages to create some genuine intensity and suspense.

He does the basic horror-movie stuff right - with lighting and shadows, with things that go bump in the night, though he's overly fond of the kind of loud, false scares intended to make you jump. And he's got some actors people have heard of, instead of a bunch of generically good-looking no-names. Well, he's at least got three: Tom Welling, Selma Blair and Maggie Grace (from "Lost").

Like most remakes, "The Fog" is pretty unnecessary. John Carpenter's original from 1980 is considered a solid effort from the horror veteran, though perhaps not a complete classic like his "Halloween." It featured the first on-screen pairing of Jamie Lee Curtis and her mother, Janet Leigh.

This new "Fog" stays pretty true to its roots, though. A hundred years after the founding of a small coastal town, a thick fog rolls in night after night, knocking out electricity, destroying boats, causing car accidents and - oh, yeah - sucking people through glass windows.

Trying to escape this madness are fishing-boat captain Nick Castle (played by Welling from "Smallville"), his ex-girlfriend, Elizabeth (Grace, in Curtis' old role), and the town's sultry radio DJ, Stevie (Blair, filling in for Barbeau).

Things get pretty bombastic toward the end - people and objects spontaneously combust, shattered glass noisily flies everywhere - as the town's dark history is revealed.

But it's still a good old-fashioned ghost story, and you really can't go wrong with that, no matter how hard you try, especially around this time of year.

MOVIE:
"WAITING"
GRADE: *

"Waiting", a film about the crazy crew of waiters, waitresses, cooks and busboys at a generic chain restaurant, is low-budget and equal to the level of service doled out by its main characters - it's just awful.

The first movie from writer-director Rob McKittrick is an erratically paced, slapped-together string of sight gags and repetitive humor, most of which involves the exposure of body parts and sexual humor. It's almost too lazy to achieve the level of deserving to be called offensive.

The king of the servant clowns is Monty, played by Ryan Reynolds with a smooth, deadpan delivery that has become his trademark over the past few years. It's the same shtick he did in "National Lampoon's Van Wilder," it's the same shtick Val Kilmer did in "Real Genius" and Chevy Chase did in "Caddyshack." He's funny, he's cynical, and he looks like the boy next door but then he'll drop his pants at a moment's notice.

Reynolds' presence is about the only thing that makes "Waiting" tolerable. As a long-time waiter at ShenaniganZ - a very thinly- veiled takeoff on Bennigan's, down to the antique schlockery on the walls and the fake Tiffany lamps dangling above the tables - Monty is responsible for training new employees.

On this particular shift, the victim is Mitch (John Francis Daley), who doesn't get to say much because Monty talks incessantly. Throughout the day, Monty introduces Mitch to, among others: Dean (Justin Long), a waiter who's having a career crisis after four years on the job; Monty's former bed buddy, the sassy Serena (Anna Faris in heavy blue eye liner that makes her look like Britney Spears); Tyla (Emmanuelle Chriqui), the hot lesbian bartender; Naomi (Alanna Ubach), who's so sick of waiting tables at ShenaniganZ that she constantly screams expletives at her co-workers; and Raddimus (Luis Guzman), the head cook, who introduced everyone else to "The Game", which involves exposing yourself to co-workers.

If you've ever worked in a restaurant (as McKittrick has), you may recognize these people and their adventures. But the really funny moments are few and far between. Send this one back to the kitchen, but then get out of there before anyone can spit on the steak.

MOVIE:
"A HISTORY OF VIOLENCE"
GRADE: ***

Director David Cronenberg's latest is an examination of the capacity to commit violence that is an inherent quality in all of us, and the ways some of us are able to either suppress, or embrace, that quality.

Viggo Mortensen, who inflicted much violence upon enemies in 'The Lord of the Rings' trilogy as Aragorn, plays Tom Stall, a quiet man in a quiet town in Indiana who runs the local diner. One night around closing time two very nasty characters walk in and attempt to rob the facility at gunpoint, at which time Stall leaps over the counter, disarms one of the attackers and kills them both without missing a shot, all the while displaying the type of ability and marksmanship normally displayed by special forces operatives, not short order cooks.

He is hailed as a hero by the local media, the story receives national coverage, and then three bad men from Philadelphia come calling, led by a disfigured Ed Harris (who is having a lot of fun with the role), who claim that Stall is really Joey Cusack, a notorious mob hit man from Philly who has been on the run for years. The rest of the story centers around this "Is he or isn't he?" plotline.

Maria Bello plays Stall's wife Edie, who begins to question who her husband really is after more and more evidence is place before her.

Cronenberg doesn't play up the violence in a gratuitous way, but just lays it all out there for the viewer to take in, and decide for themselves whether they are horrified or thrilled by it. He examines violence on many levels, whether caused by bullets from a gun on one's physical body or when one's actions harm another's psyche.

Mortensen and Bello are very good, and a brief appearance by William Hurt near the end of the film is worth seeing.

There are seven differences in the second picture, Can you spot them ?

BOWL, TABLE DRAW, CHAIR, TV, ANTENNA, LAMP, TV STAND.

"FLIGHTPLAN"
GRADE: **

In "Flightplan," Jodie Foster's a desperate mother scrambling to find out what happened to the daughter everyone else tells her no longer exists.

The movie is very similar to a film that starred Julianne Moore last year called "The Forgotten", which was also about a mother looking for a child that everyone claims never existed. The difference is that Moore was safe on the ground, while Foster's hovering

About the Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

THE TOWN, THE DIRECTION, THE GUY

More building in Burlington

"The Planning Board voted recently to approve a site plan and special permit for two office buildings at 200 Wheeler Road," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Both votes were 6-0, Paul Roth was not in attendance.

"The Gutierrez Co. acquired the property, located at the crest of the hill on the western end of Wheeler Road (adjacent to the Siemens building), as part of the three-way land exchange approved in 2001. The site overlooks Route 128.

"The 14.5-acre parcel had belonged to the town.

"One building would be 130,000 square feet and the other 120,000 square feet.

"Attorney Mark Vaughan of the local firm of Riemer & Braunstein, representing Gutierrez, has stated the buildings will be constructed in a 'campus-style' development.

"There are currently no immediate plans to begin construction, and development will not proceed until Gutierrez can find an anchor tenant.

"As the hearing resumed, Vaughan said an additional $232,000 in traffic mitigation measures were deemed to be needed. Gutierrez has pledged road upgrades in the Wheeler Road-Middlesex Turnpike area.

"Vaughan said there will be parking areas set aside for each building as well as green space which could be converted to parking, if needed.

"Returning to the traffic issue, Planning Director Tony Fields noted that $160,000 designated for that purpose is left over from construction of the Siemens (then Nixdorf) building. He said those funds could be combined with monies pledged by National Development (in connection with a housing complex to be built off the eastern side of Wheeler Road) for use in the turnpike area.

"As part of the land-swap agreement, Gutierrez is making annual payments of $75,000 to the town over 20 years...."

Heroes again in Wakefield

"Wakefield's Lucius Beebe Memorial Library was closed to the public as many of the library's employees agreed to take the week's unpaid furlough to help ease the budgetary crunch," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"'The majority of our staff elected to [take one week's unpaid vacation] rather than lose a colleague,' explained Library Director Sharon Gilley, who is one of a handful of staff members who decided to take their week off at a different point in time so that various improvements could be performed while the building is closed to the public.

"A skeleton crew was onhand throughout the week, conducting an inventory of the children's room book collection, in addition to other smaller projects such as replacing stair treads.

"In fact, the Beebe Library staff is faced with a pretty 'dicey' situation, according to Gilley. She explained, 'In order to retain our certification from the State Board of Library Commissioners, we cannot close due to a lack of funding.'

"'We are, however, allowed to close to perform improvements, so by the end of the week, we'll have several accomplishments to point to.'

"The director of Wakefield's Beebe Library also had great things to say about the staff that fills the 21.3 full-time equivalent positions.

"'A librarian with a master's degree earns $35,000 to $42,000 a year, so a week without pay translates into a significant hit for the staff,' Gilley said, adding, 'It says a lot that these people decided to make this sacrifice. We really have an excellent team of librarians - they're truly good human beings.'

"It should be noted that this is the third year in a row that the library staff has taken a one week unpaid furlough to help compensate for a budget shortfall.

"Beebe Library reopened after Labor Day and normal operating hours resumed...."

Honors in North Reading

"We are honored to be named as one of Bloomberg's Top Wealth Managers,' said Robert D. Siefert, CFP, of 28 Crestwood Rd.," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

"'It is a significant milestone for Back Bay Financial Group (BBFG) to be listed for the third consecutive year. For our clients the designation shows our continuing growth and maturity as a wealth management services firm.'

"In the July/August issue of Bloomberg Wealth Manager magazine, Back Bay Financial Group, Inc. was named in the fifth annual ranking of America's Top Wealth Managers....

"Siefert is principal of Back Bay Financial Group. He co-founded the firm after building his private practice, serving clients throughout New England. He previously had 16 years of experience in the areas of personal trust management, pension and retirement planning, and mutual fund administration.

"Siefert's expertise is in the area of portfolio construction, retirement accumulation and distribution strategies, but clients work with him in an overall financial capacity to stabilize and grow all aspects of their assets. His interest in philanthropy extends to the development of professional advice on money management to foundations, endowments, trusts and charitable organizations. Outside of BBFG, Siefert is a member of the Merrimack Valley Striders in Andover. He runs in areas surrounding BBFG's Wakefield branch office...."

Movies

at 37,000 feet aboard a trans-Atlantic flight.

The basic story is intriguing, and with Foster and supersonic producer Brian Grazer on board, there was a real prospect for a high-flying thriller.

The filmmakers assembled roster that features supporting players Peter Sarsgaard, Sean Bean and Erika Christensen. The performances all around, including that of two-time Academy Award winner Foster, are intense and frantic, but evoke little resonance or empathy.

The movie opens with newly widowed Kylie Pratt (Foster) making plans to return home from Germany to Long Island to bury her husband, who died in a fall from their apartment building.

Kylie has a little fantasy in which she spends an evening with her dead hubby before heading to the airport with their 6-year-old daughter, Julia (Marlene Lawston), an encounter that sets the stage for skepticism about Kylie's sanity once on board the plane.

After nodding off in mid-flight, Kylie awakens to discover Julia is missing. Kylie's anxiety turns to terror as a search orchestrated by the plane's steely captain (Bean) and a sympathetic air marshal (Sarsgaard) turns up no sign of Julia.

Passengers and crew, including Christensen and Kate Beahan as flight attendants, say they never saw the little girl, and the flight manifest shows Kylie was flying alone. The crew ultimately determines they have a delusional lunatic on their hands, and we're off to the races.

The film keeps up the suspenes for the first two-thirds, but the ending is far to improbable and unsatisfying given an actor of Foster's caliber.

MOVIE:
"LORD OF WAR"
GRADE: ***

Nicolas Cage stars as an international arms dealer in this smart tale of how his occupation takes a toll both on his soul, as well as those around him that he loves.

Cage stars as Yuri Orlov (even that's not the character's real name, we learn), a man who is not what he seems to almost everyone he encounters. Loving family man and provider when at home with his wife (played by Bridget Moynahan) and son, he keeps a storage site in New York where he keeps examples of his ever-growing arsenal of product and identification to get him into all the major political hot spots in the world.

Orlov incorporates the services of his younger brother, played by Jared Leto, until a deal goes bad and one of them ends up flying home in a casket.

Ethan Hawke plays an Interpol agent who pursues Orlov over the course of two decades.

Orlov is a character that keeps telling himself that he isn't involved in the wars he helps sustain, and that the warlords he calls business associates are strictly customers, even when he knows for a fact that the guns he sells will be used to mow down a village of women and children as soon as they are paid for.

Cage is very good, as is Leto as the brother who slowly realizes that something must be done to stop the violence. Moynahan is also good as the wife willing to look away as long as the money keeps coming in, until she is forced to face the fact that her husband is a monster.

The film also examines the culture of gun smuggling, and the part it can sometime play in U.S. foreign policy. The opening sequence, showing a bullet being created, transported overseas, and ending up in the skull of an anonymous African boy is one of the most visually jarring sequences in a film in recent years.

MOVIE:
"THE EXORCISM OF EMILY ROSE"
GRADE: ***

Though the coming attractions would have one believe this is a horror movie, it actually plays as more of a smart legal drama, with elements of horror mixed in throughout.

Based on a true story, the plot revolves around the death of 19-year-old college freshman Emily Rose, who went off to school and came home in an altered state of mind - a form of epilepsy, if you believe her doctors, or demonic possession, if you believe her family and their parish Catholic priest, Father Moore.

Rose agrees to become the subject of an exorcism, which is caught on tape, and although she survives the event she later dies of malnutrition. Father Moore is arrested and charged with negligent homicide, and the movie centers around his trial.

The film stars Laura Linney as the defense attorney who is a woman of little faith in God, while Campell Scott is the prosecutor who actively reads the Bible in his spare time and his charged with partially putting the beliefs of the Rose family on trial.

The film smartly realizes it will never create the same scares as 'The Exorcist', the film many will no doubt compare it to. Instead, it shows the creepy events that portray Rose's so-called possession in two lights, with a religious explanation for what is happening alongside a scientific one, and lets the viewer decide which camp they are in.

This is a smart movie in a season lacking much else of substance at the theaters.

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA What position did Ted Williams play at during his rookie season with the Boston Red Sox? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•THE READING FRESHMAN FIELD HOCKEY TEAM extended their undefeated season Wednesday with a 3-0 win over Wakefield. The first goal was scored with a scramble in front of the goal, as the offense kept the pressure on the Wakefield goalie and Cassie DeSimone drove it in the net. The second goal came as Kelly Hennessey passed to Cassie DeSimone from a corner play. Cassie kept it in the circle allowing a score by Devon Ross and Reading was up 2-0 at the half time. The Reading team came back even stronger in the second half when Kelly Hennessey dodged two defenders and passed to Devon Ross who scored her second goal. There was nice give and go action by offensemen Jamie Spano. The midfielders, led by Lauren Gotsell, Elizabeth Shea and Kristina Solimini, played a pivotal role in getting the ball up the field and keeping the ball in the offensive zone. Brittany Clifford was in goal and continued her shut out season.

HAUNTED HAPPENINGS

From S- 1

Tour Schedule
April 1st - October 31st
November 1st - March 31st
daily 10:00 AM - 5:00 PM

Tour begins and ends at the trolley Stop on Essex Street, adjacent to the National Park Service Regional Visitor Center.

The city of Salem itself is a perfect destination for multiple trips, any time of year.

Salem's stories include the history of its name - which means "City of Peace" - and the seventeenth-century conflicts that occurred shortly after the name was given. Early settlers struggled to survive in Salem, and their struggles have left a mark on this city that has endured nearly four centuries.

There is much more to Salem than the trials of 1692. Salem industries have included fishing, shipbuilding, overseas trade - where millions were made by Salem sea captains! In the nineteenth century, the industrial revolution brought leather tanneries and cotton mills to Salem.

America's first millionaires lived in Salem. They made their money in overseas trade, and brought plenty of precious cargo and money home to Salem. Salem's military heritage begins in 1636, when the first muster occurred on Salem Common. Today, the National Guard traces its roots to that first muster. Salem residents and supplies contributed to the Revolutionary War, Civil War, French & Indian War, Spanish War and World War II.

CHAMBER, MUSIC, AND CLASS A NOTES

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

Perfect partnership (Stoneham)

"The Stoneham Chamber of Commerce, in association with the Stoneham Public Schools, has developed the Read-a-Loud Program to provide support to Stoneham's school system and interaction between members of the business community and the school system," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"This fosters a mutually beneficial partnership that enhances the education of Stoneham's elementary students.

"We need adults in the Stoneham community, Chamber members as well as non-members, to participate with kindergarten through fifth grade level students and their teachers. Past readers have enjoyed sharing their time and love of reading with the children, and have watched the enthusiasm and learning grow as the school year progresses.

"Your commitment in the classroom would be about 20 to 30 minutes, twice a month. Once your application and CORI forms are approved via the Chamber's screening process (required of ALL volunteer readers), you and your teaching partner set the reading schedule. Reading material is reviewed together and may be chosen based on a preferred reading list (provided), review of class curriculum or teacher approval.

"For more information and to apply as a reader, contact Sharon Iovanni at Sharon@stonehamchamber.org (or 781-438-0001) or Joan Covino at jcovino@strategicqualityconsulting.com (or 781-279-4519)...."

State of the art (Lynnfield)

"Lynnfield High School welcomed the Class of 2009 when school opened," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"This year's crop of 155 freshmen is down slightly from 2004 (168), but continues a recent boost in enrollment, as the freshman class of 2003 was only 129 students, and the two academic years prior were approximately 130.

"Superintendent Dr. Richard Palermo feels that several factors have played a role in the recent enrollment numbers.

"'I think it's a combination of our state-of-the-art facility, which is far superior to any other public or private school in the area, and the job we've done communicating the results,' he said. 'I think parents are looking at it and saying, 'Why spend money to go to private schools when my kids can get a Class A education at Lynnfield High?'

"Assistant Principal Robert Cleary and Palermo both said that the high school is capable of handling the increased enrollment.

"'It's the only school that I'm not worried about in the short run' concerning overcrowding, Palermo said.

"While the class rosters are full, the teaching staff is not, thanks to the surprise resignation of newly hired science teacher Rebecca Hamilton earlier this month.

"Cleary said he was interviewing a candidate for the position and hoped to have the vacancy filled by the start of classes.

"Math and computer teacher Vincent Mirasolo will head the new AP Economics course that will be offered to students this year.

"The Business Department at the high school received a grant from the Economic Education Foundation that funds the course. The grant paid for a one-week teachers' course at Fitchburg State College for Mirasolo in credits. The grant also covered all expenses, 25 textbooks and additional resources, teacher materials, continued professional development opportunities, and continued professional support/mentoring...."

Practice made perfect (Tewksbury)

"In a corner of the parking lot at Tewksbury Memorial High School, Ms. Hilary Anderson stood in front of eleven students, snapping her fingers in perfect time, directing her students as if she were The Boston Pops' Keith Lockhart on the Fourth of July," notes the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"The Tewksbury High School Band and Color Guard held Band Camp. Monday through Friday the students met at 1:00 p.m. and worked until 9:00 p.m. in the evening. For nine hours the group practiced and rehearsed for a piece to be played at the upcoming home football games. This particular piece will also be used in competition.

"Just two years ago, Anderson joined the Tewksbury Public School System and directed nine students. This year, the program boasts forty-nine student musicians.

"When asked how she was able to bring the band to where it is today, Anderson attributes the program's growth to the students' expectation of working very hard in order to have fun.

"'Quality breeds quality,' she says of the influx of students who are joining.

"One might think a Director such as Anderson would choose a relatively 'safe' competition for her students to learn in just one week. One might even think a difficult piece would not necessarily be a wise choice for a band that has only been together for such a short time.

"Not so. Anderson got together with her staff, and brainstormed.

"'We thought about the kids and their development,' Anderson said. 'We thought they would be able to attack a more musical and dramatic program....'"

Once a month Middlesex East will publish a profile of a child that is looking for a home.
If you can help please call or e-mail the MARE agency.

Meet Chazan

Chazan is a warm and friendly boy of Latino descent who is popular with both his peers and adults. He has developed strong relationships with the adults in his life and often seeks nurturance and attention from them. He is doing well in his residential home, but is looking to find a permanent family in which he will receive love, guidance and stability.

Full of playful energy and athleticism, 8-year-old Chazan has a natural talent for sports according to the residential staff. Don't be surprised if you see Chazan doing back-flips with ease. He excels in both individual and team sports, and in addition to gymnastics, he enjoys basketball, soccer and running. When he's not outside, Chazan has fun playing billiards and board games, watching Power Rangers, or eating pizza and hot dogs - his two favorite foods.

Chazan is described as being bright and is working at grade level. He is in the third grade, and his social worker and teachers agree he has made great strides at being attentive in the classroom. He has also made significant improvements in his overall behavior with the help of therapy, which addresses his difficult past.

Legally free for adoption, Chazan would do well in a two-parent home in which he is either the only or youngest child. His future family should be able to keep up with his high-energy level and love of sports. Chazan will surely thrive in a family that is prepared to give him the supervision and structure he needs.

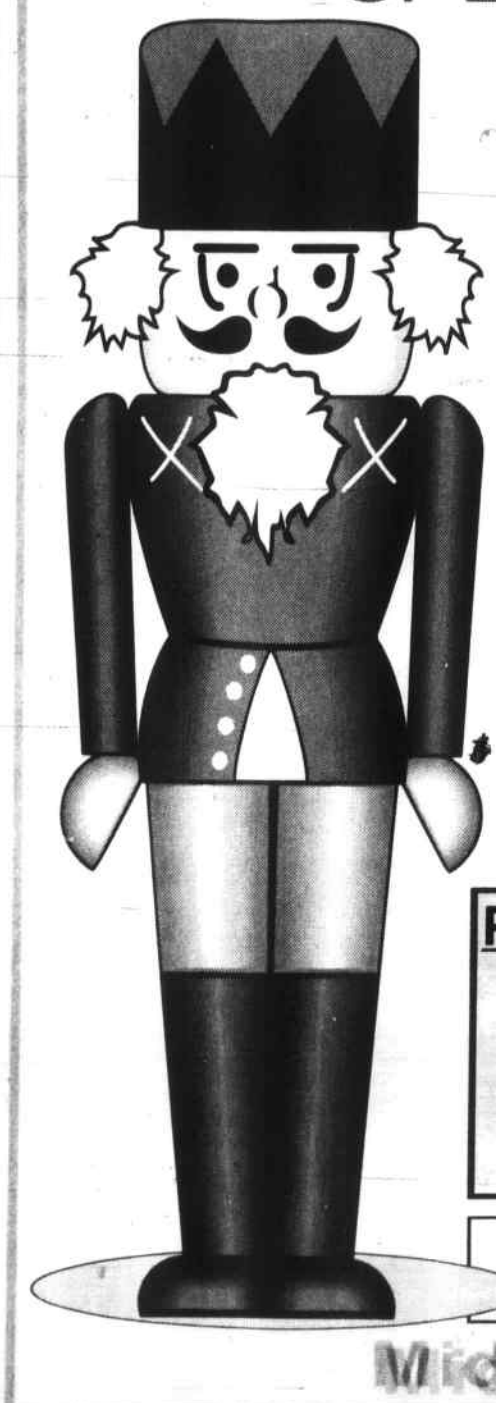

To learn more about Chazan, or about adoption in general, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or 1-800-882-1176. REAL ESTATE SAMPLER — THIS WEEK Woburn

Exceptional multi-family

This exceptional multi-level home, steps from Horn Pond, had an extreme makeover in 1989. And you can see for yourself at the Open House on Sunday, October 23 from 12:00 to 2:00 pm at 46A Arlington Road in Woburn.

Family life often centers around the kitchen and it's usually where guests congregate when entertaining. The large oak cabinet packed kitchen with built-in spice rack, pull out shelves, recessed lighting and ceramic tile floor explain why that's the case in this home.

The kitchen is situated between the familyroom with a cathedral ceiling and operating skylights and the large livingroom. It's a great layout for entertaining!

The impressive custom marble fireplace is the focal point of the living room with light from the large bow window reflecting off the gleaming hardwood floors.

Orchid Sale Nov. 4 - 5

The Lyman Estate Greenhouse will be offering hundreds of orchid plants on sale. The sale will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday November 4, 5 and 6 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Come enjoy the antique greenhouses, built by wealthy Boston merchant Theodore Lyman. Inhale the wonderful scents of the wide variety of orchids on display and for sale. There will be both hard to find varieties as well as easily grown varieties. The expert staff will help choose the appropriate plants for specific conditions.

Fascination with orchids began in the late 1700s and early 1800s. During that time explorers were bringing back thousands of orchids to England. After perfecting growing techniques orchids were sent to the United States.

The Lyman Estate Greenhouses are located at 185 Lyman Street in Waltham. To reach the Estate take Route 128 to exit 27A, Totten Pond Road; follow Totten Pond Road to the end and turn right onto Lexington Street; take a left onto Beaver Street and continue to the Estate at the rotary.

We are "all systems go" and looking for someone to cover our immediate area (I-93 & 128/95 in Woburn, MA) and sell the heck out of this product.
